Introduction

This yearbook is dedicated to the students, faculty and administration of Ambassador College. It is also dedicated to families and friends of students and to those who support Ambassador and its far-flung educational activities.

The ENVOY you are holding in your hand is a record of the people who make up Ambassador College, those who are striving to recapture the true values of meaningful living.

The book is a record of the year from April 1973 to April 1974. All the photographs which comprise the book are meant to show students, faculty and administration participating in college life through classes, field trips, sports, clubs, forums and other activities. The college is happy to share these photographs with those who have a special and personal interest in Ambassador. As the years go by, the annual ENVOY can serve as a record of "The Year That Was" and bring back many cherished memories.

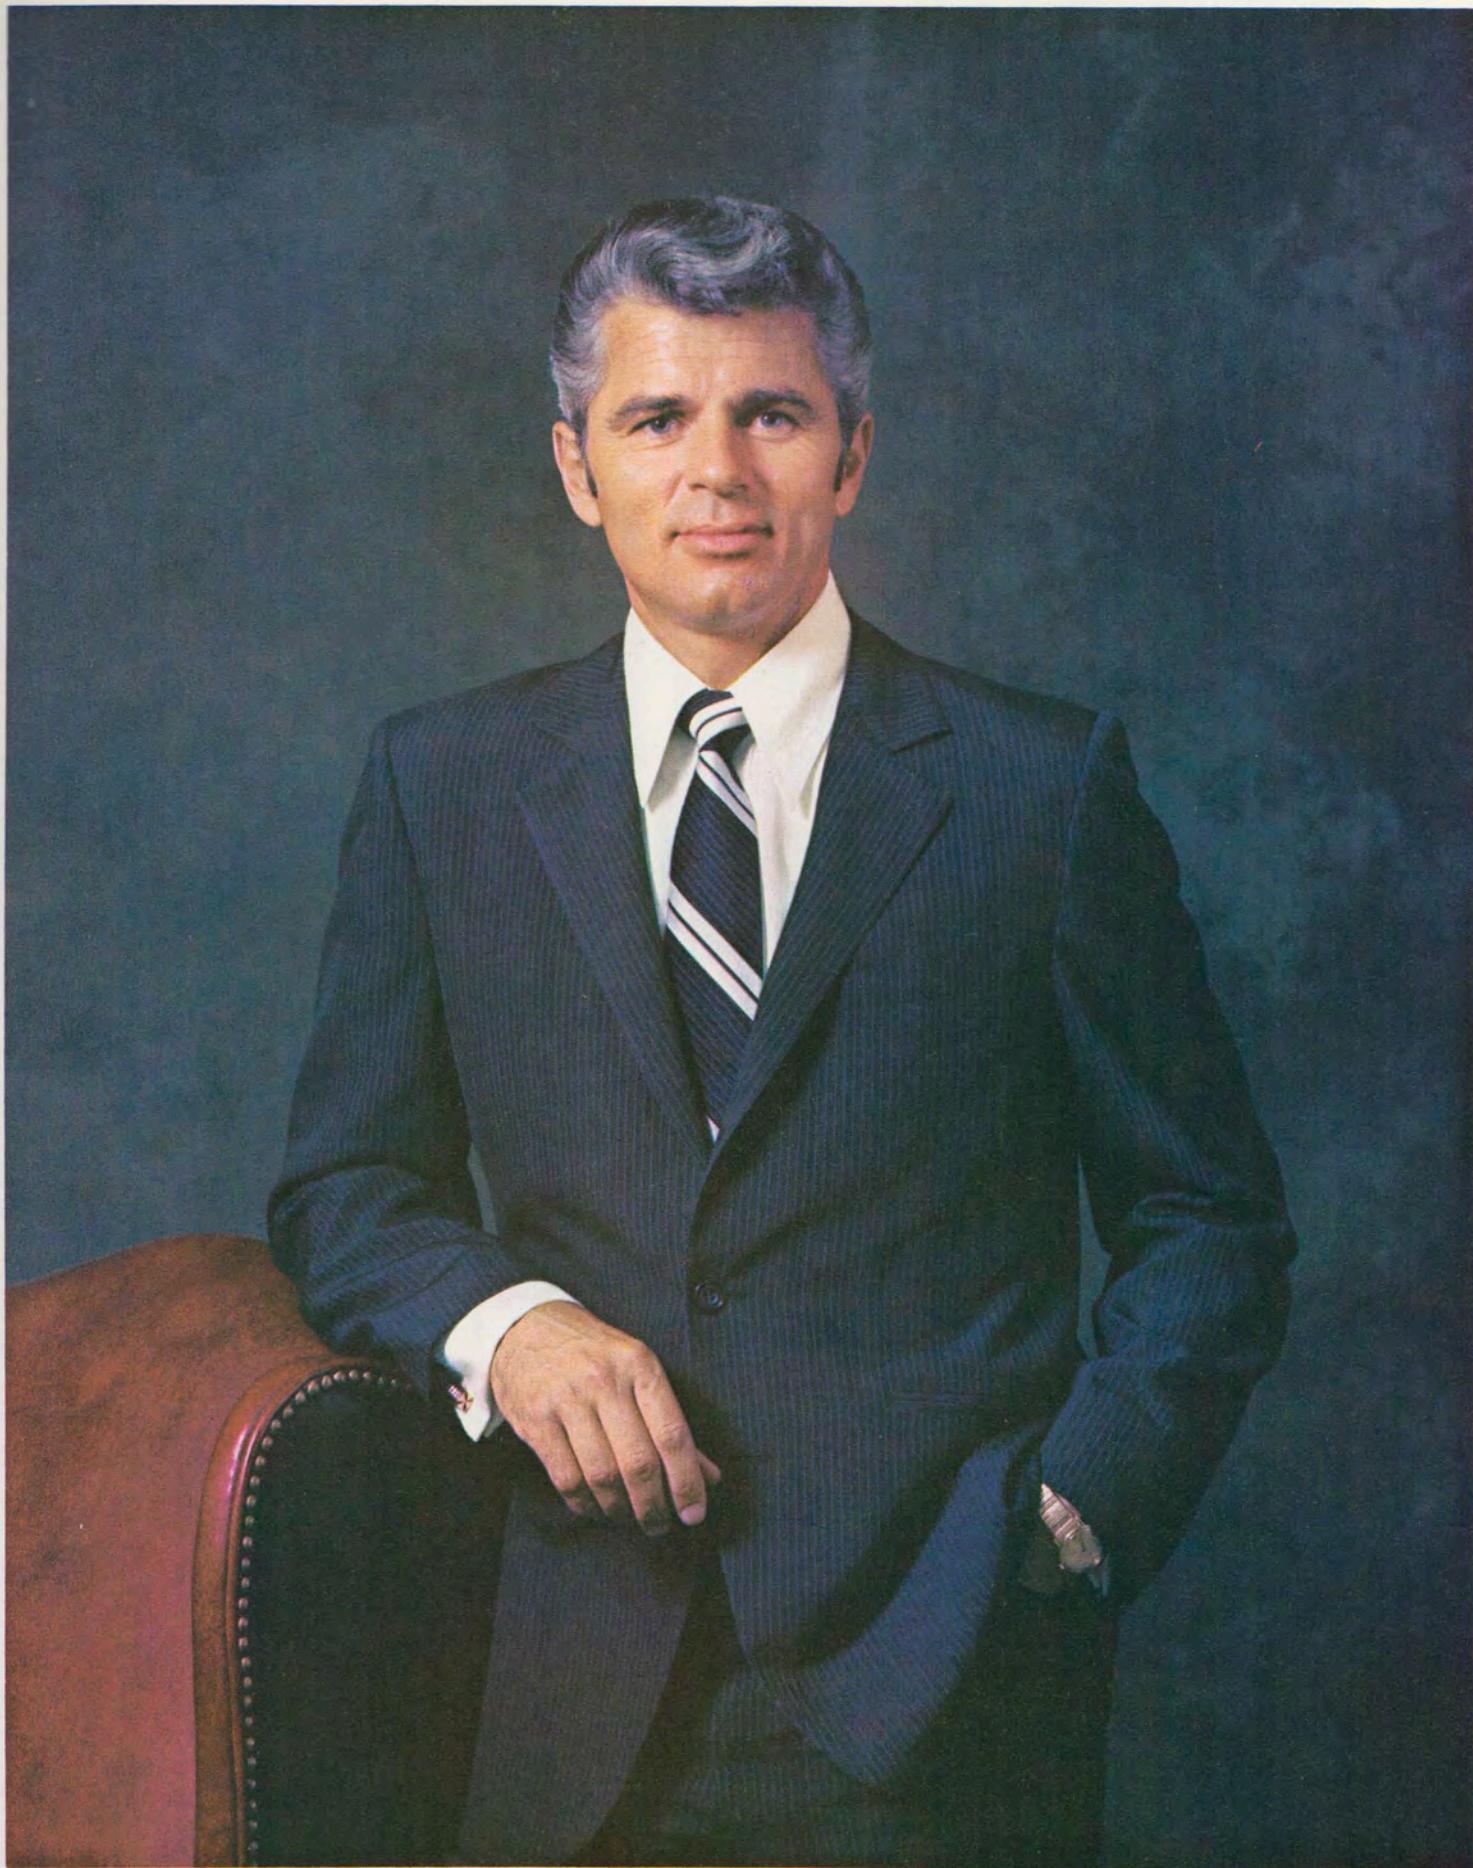

This year the ENVOY includes a special section showing the new Auditorium, a potpourri of pictures depicting students working in the special archaeological excavation program in Jerusalem plus a photojournalistic record of a Garner Ted Armstrong Personal Appearance Tour. The ENVOY staff sincerely hopes you enjoy and treasure the 1974 yearbook of Ambassador College.

Auditorium

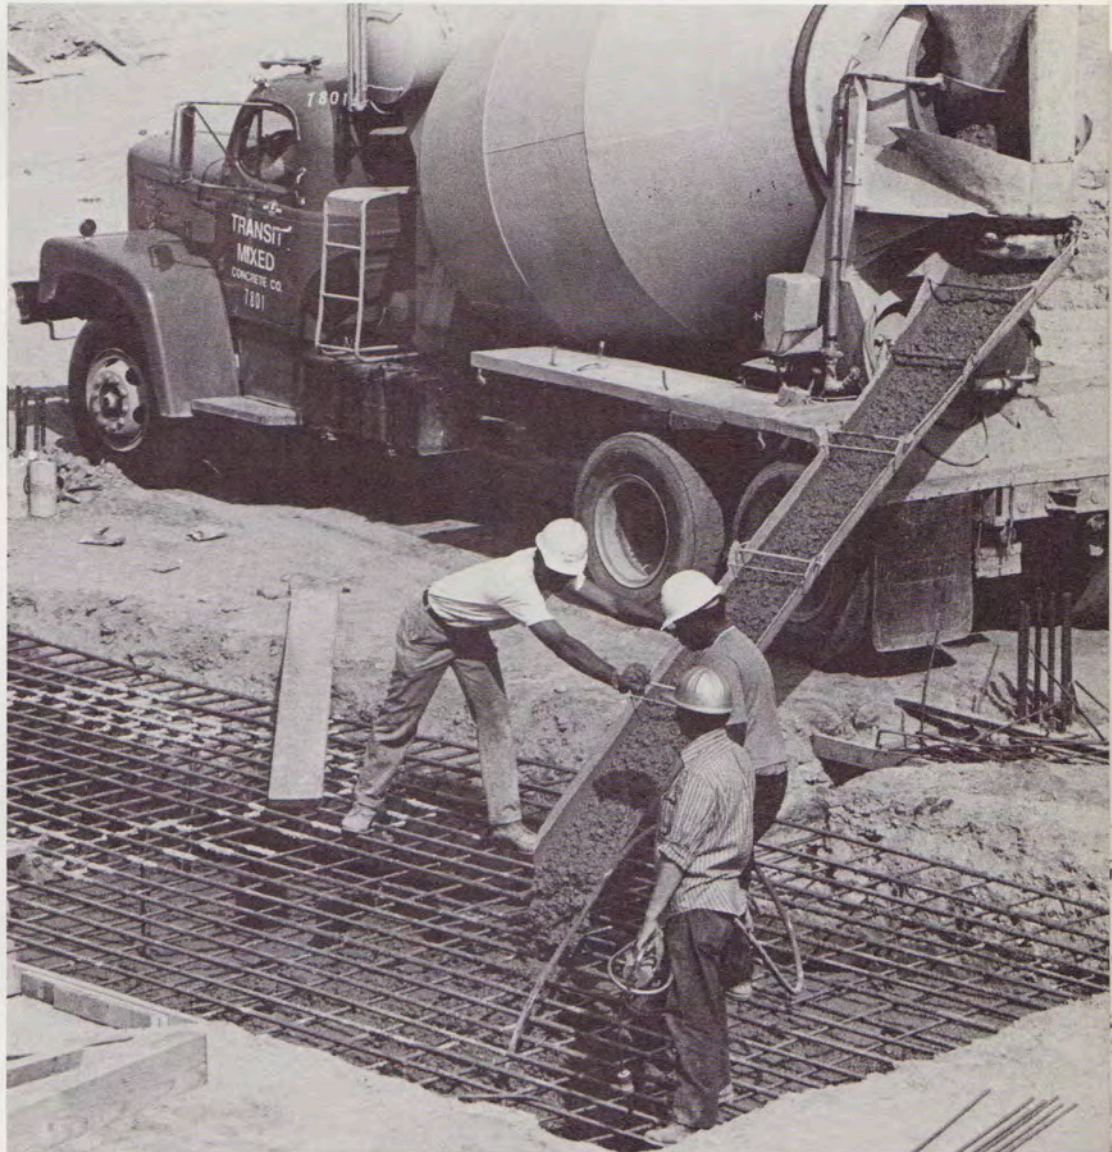

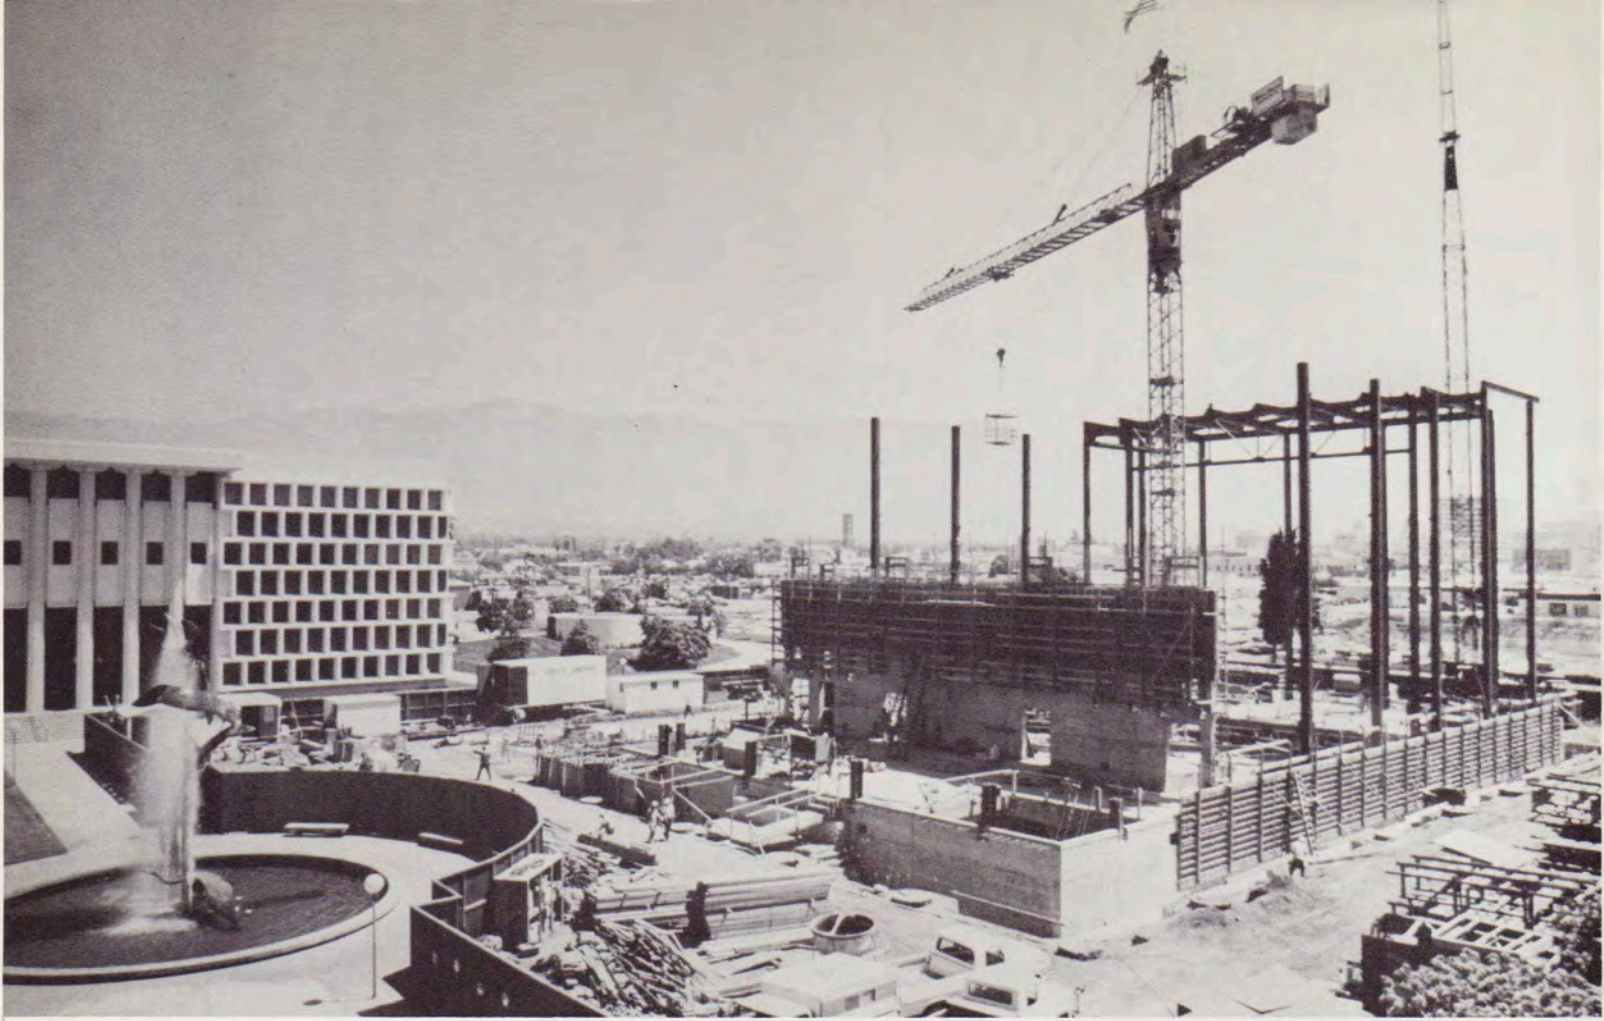

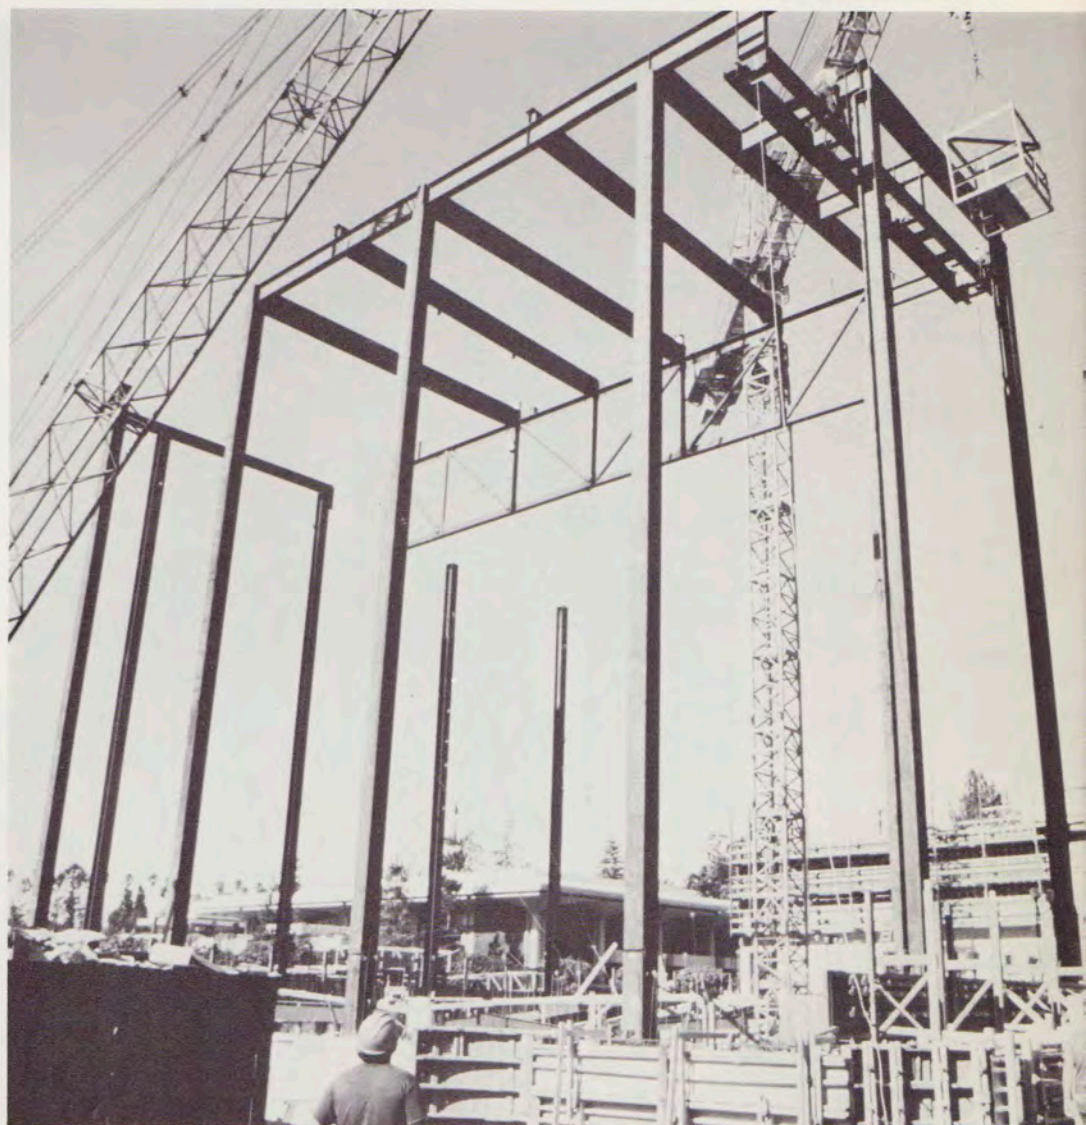

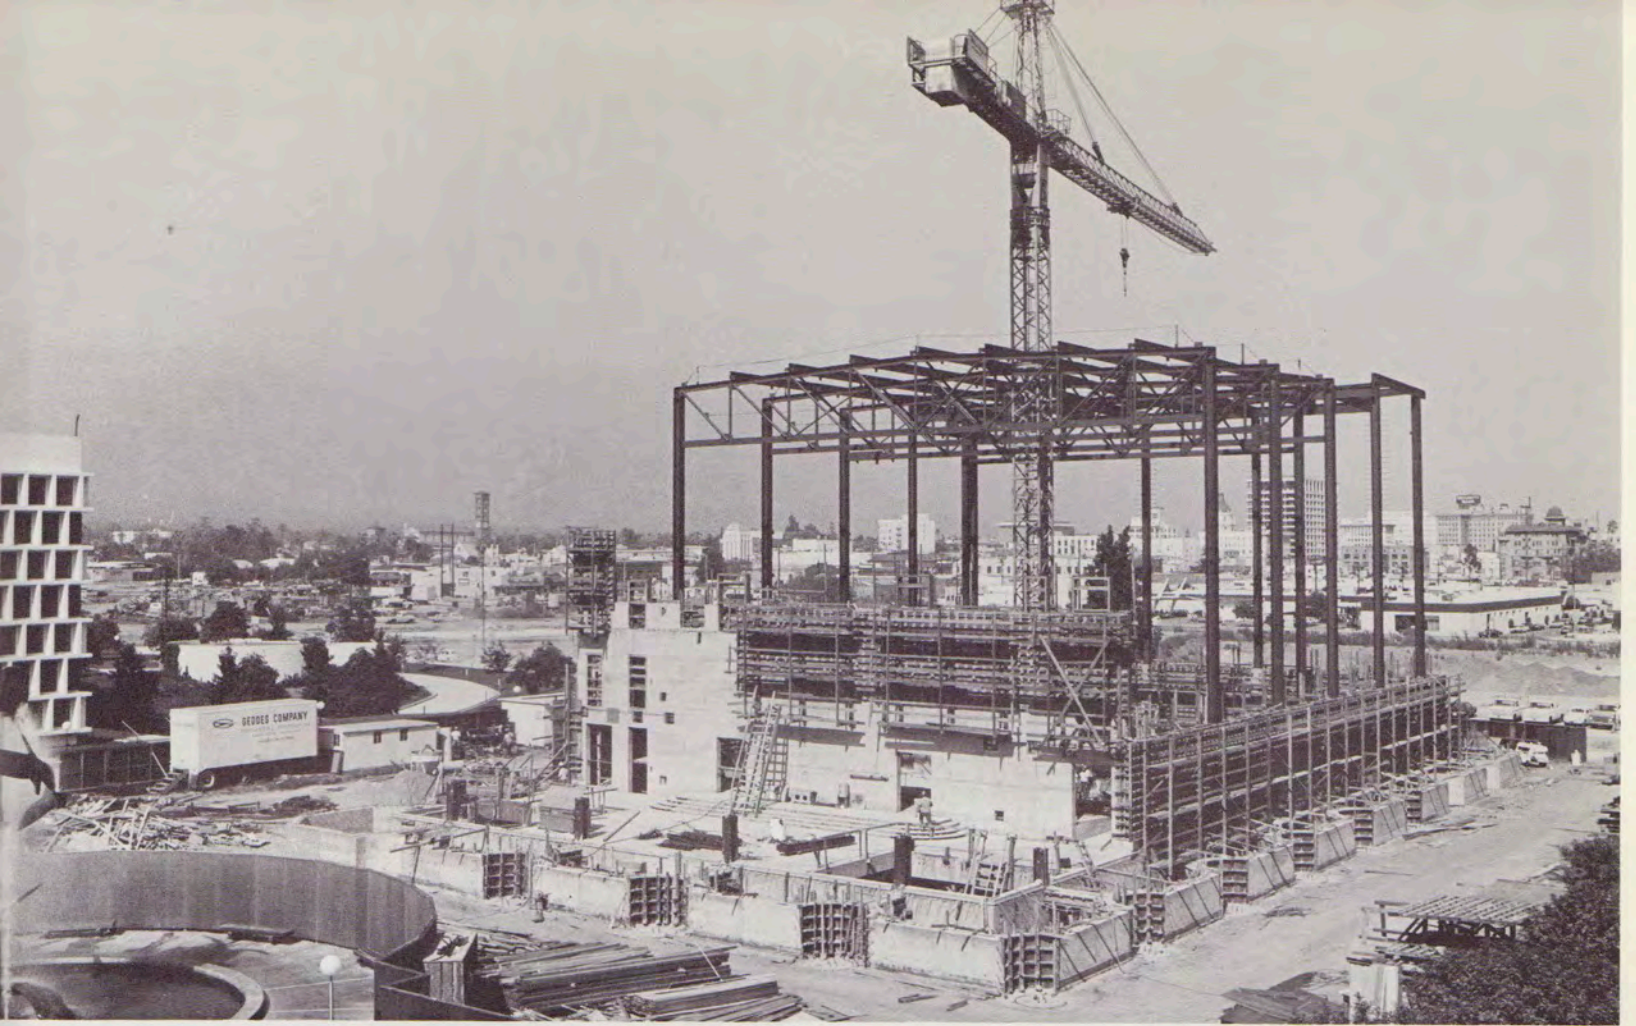

The Ambassador College Auditorium

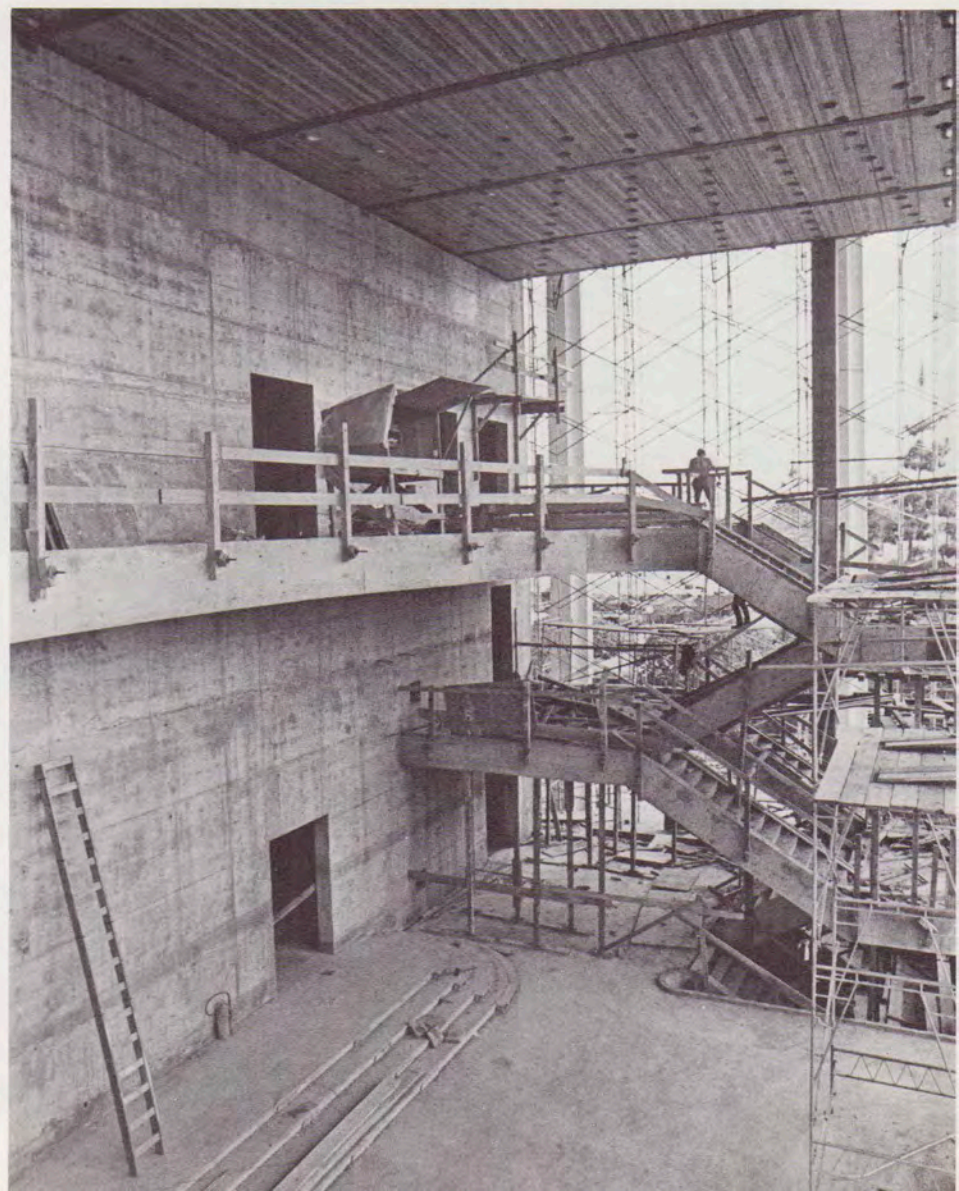

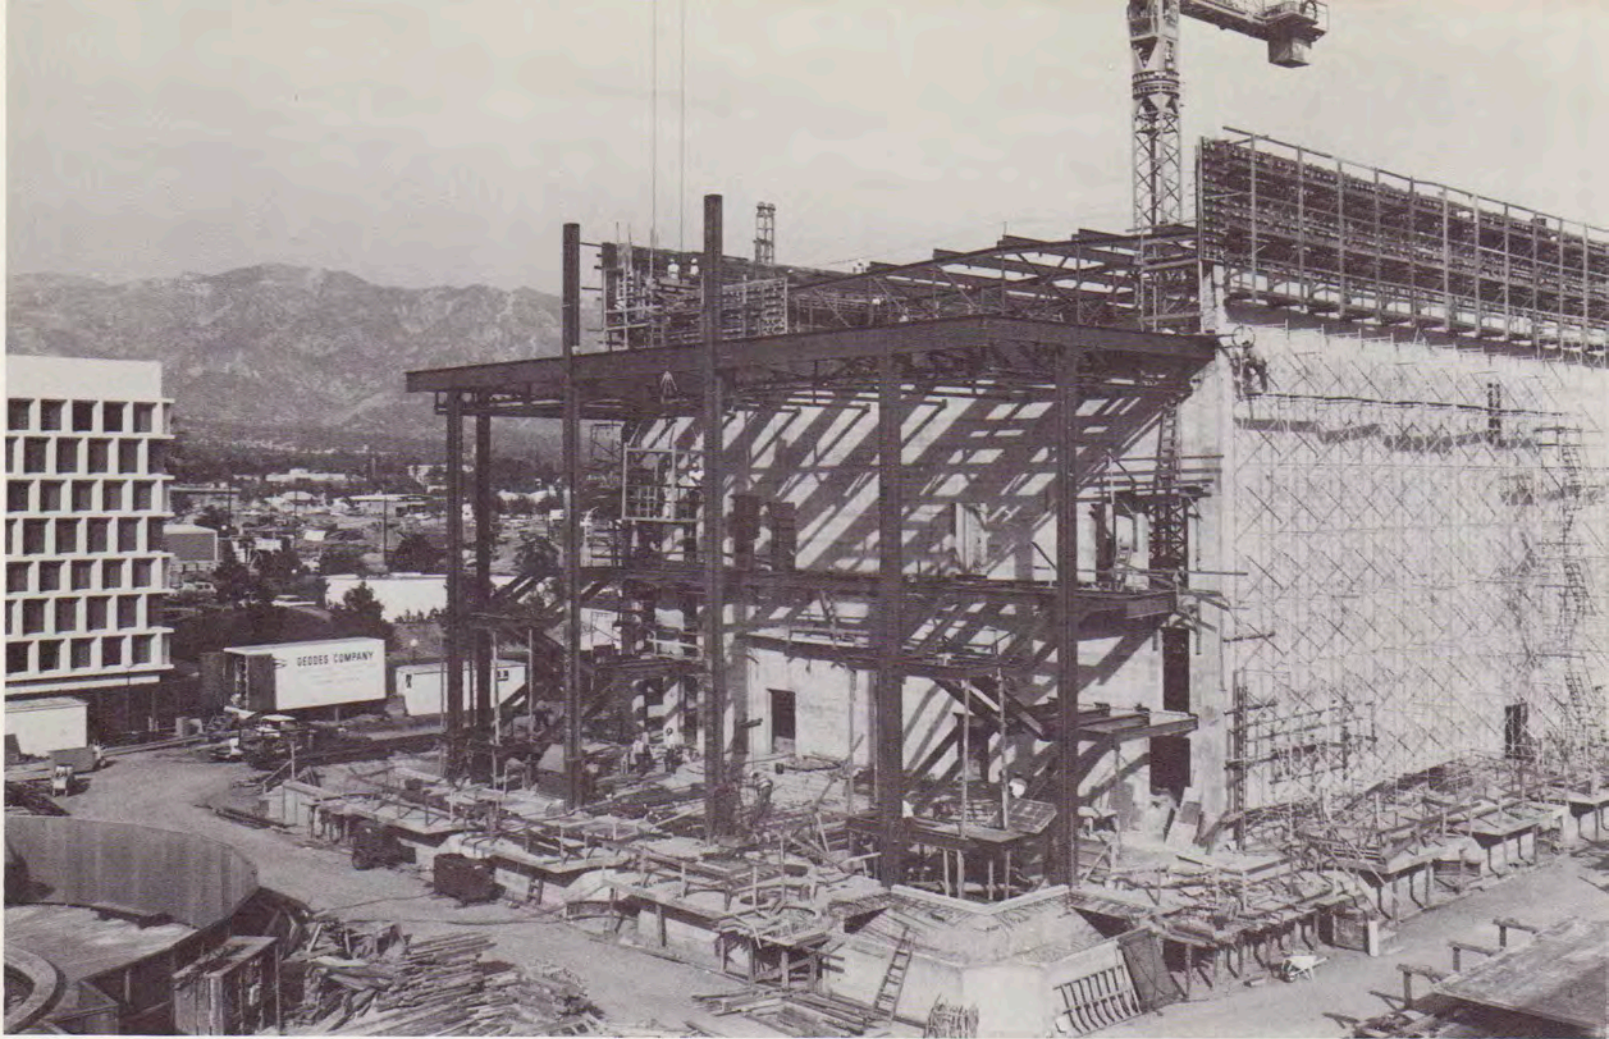

The Ambassador Auditorium opened on April 7, 1974 with the Vienna Symphony Orchestra hosting a capacity crowd of 1200 people. The festive occasion culminated over two years of busy construction and several years of planning. Those who have had the privilege of seeing both the exterior and interior of the Auditorium know that photographs have difficulty in properly conveying its majestic, classical and delightful beauty. Since The ENVOY is a photographic record of the past year at Ambassador, the staff felt readers would like to see a historical sequence of the various phases of the Auditorium under construction, from the first shovel of dirt to the opening night.

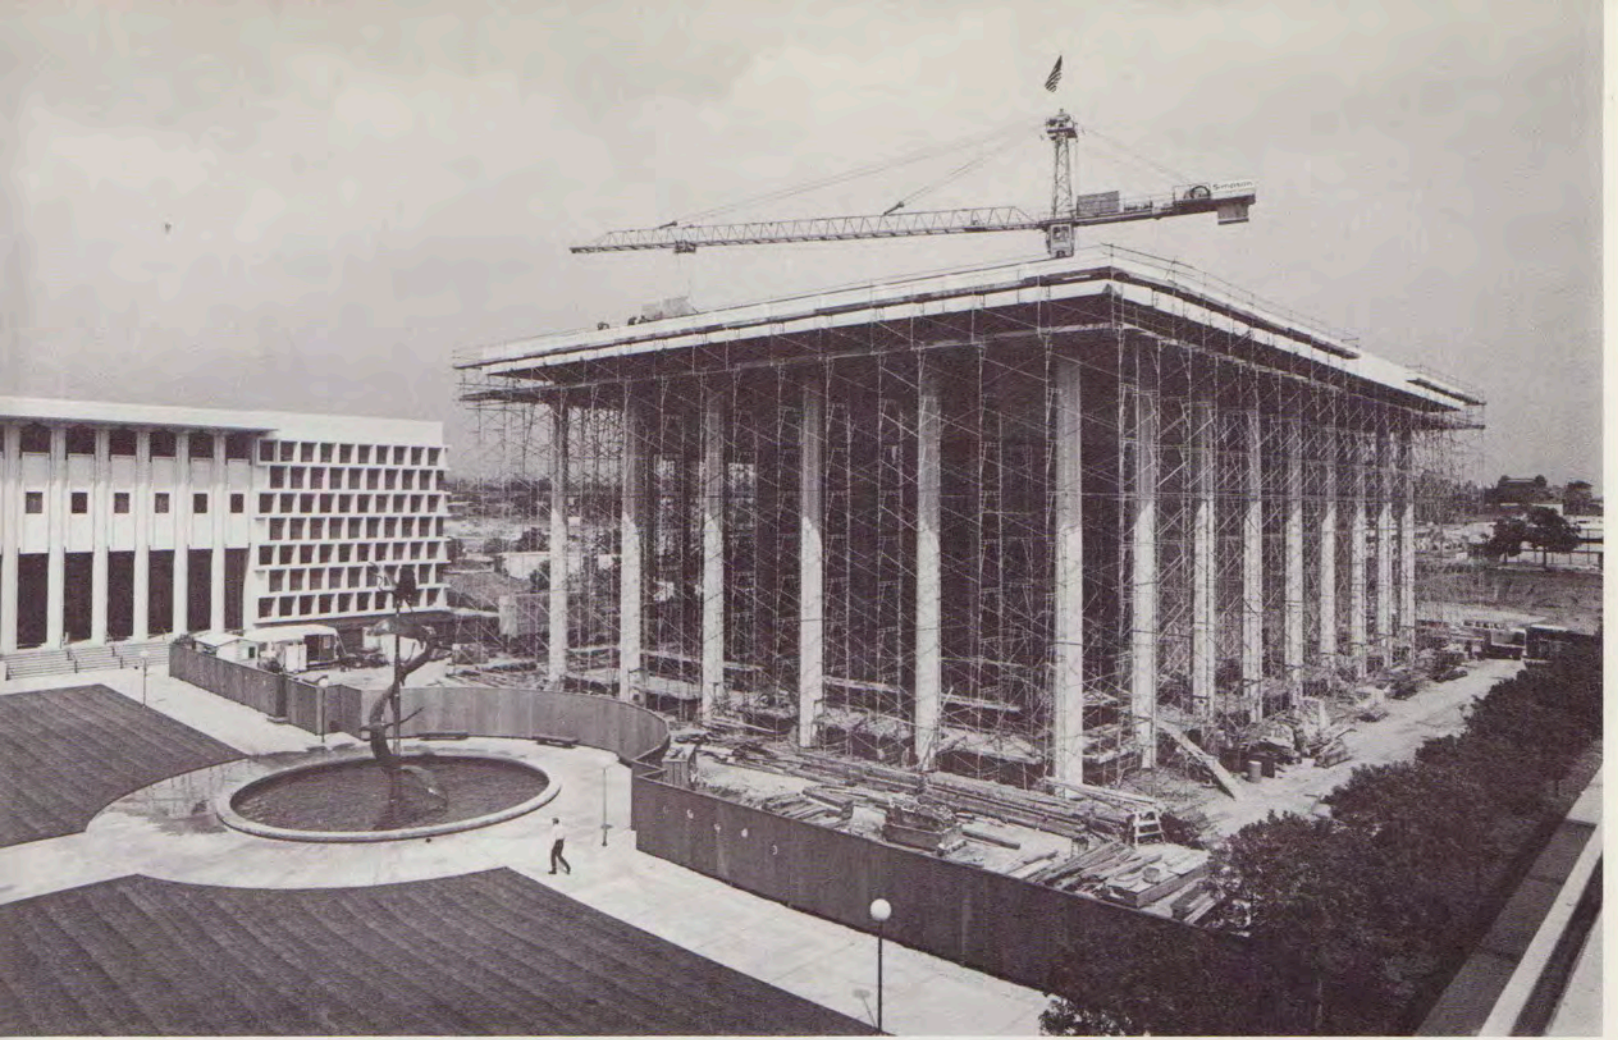

The opening spread on the previous page shows the splendid Auditorium on opening night, April 7, 1974. The next two-page spread, at which you are now looking, covers the first few months of 1972, from the ceremonial groundbreaking by Mr. Herbert W. Armstrong. On the next two-page spread you will see the progress of construction until the end of 1972. The third spread, on pages 212-213, shows the building as it appeared by the middle of 1973. The next two-page spread carries us into March 1974. The final photographs, beginning on page 216, carry us to opening night, with photographs of the actual event in progress.

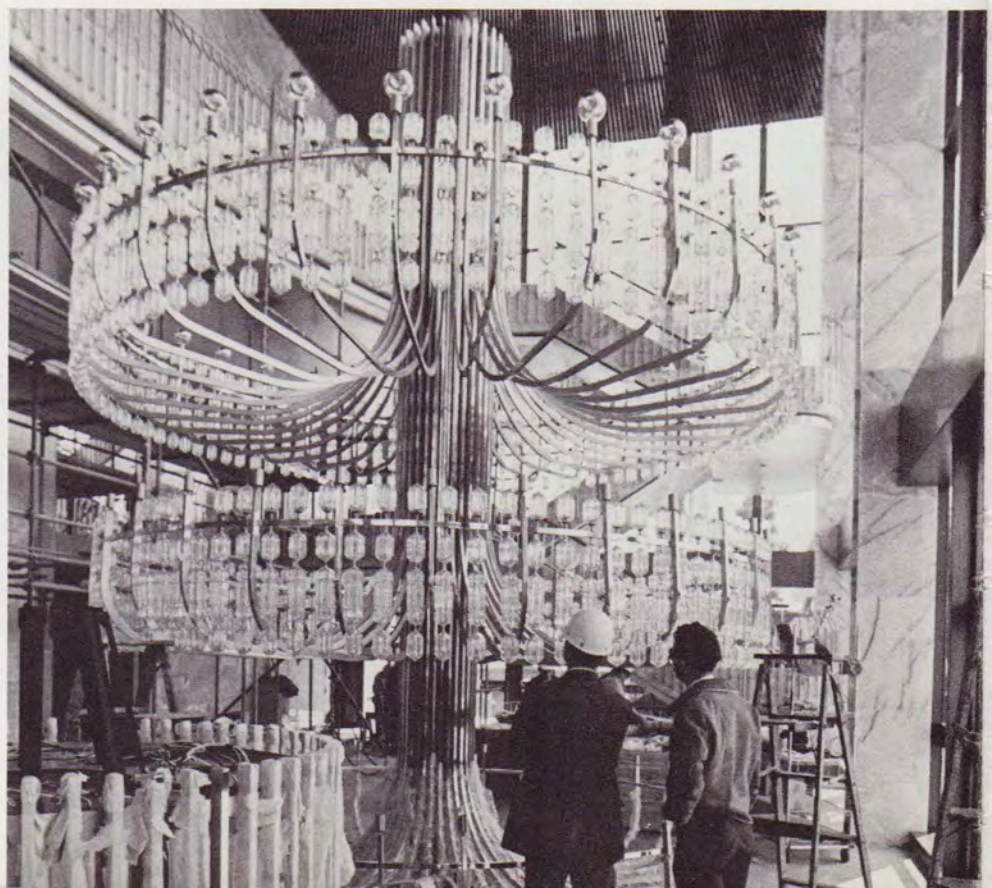

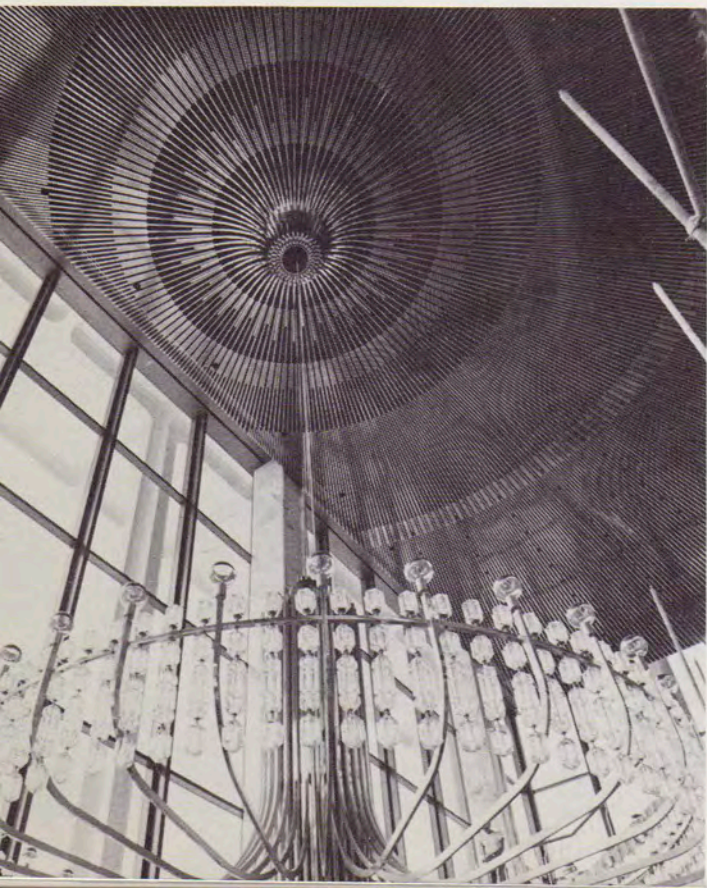

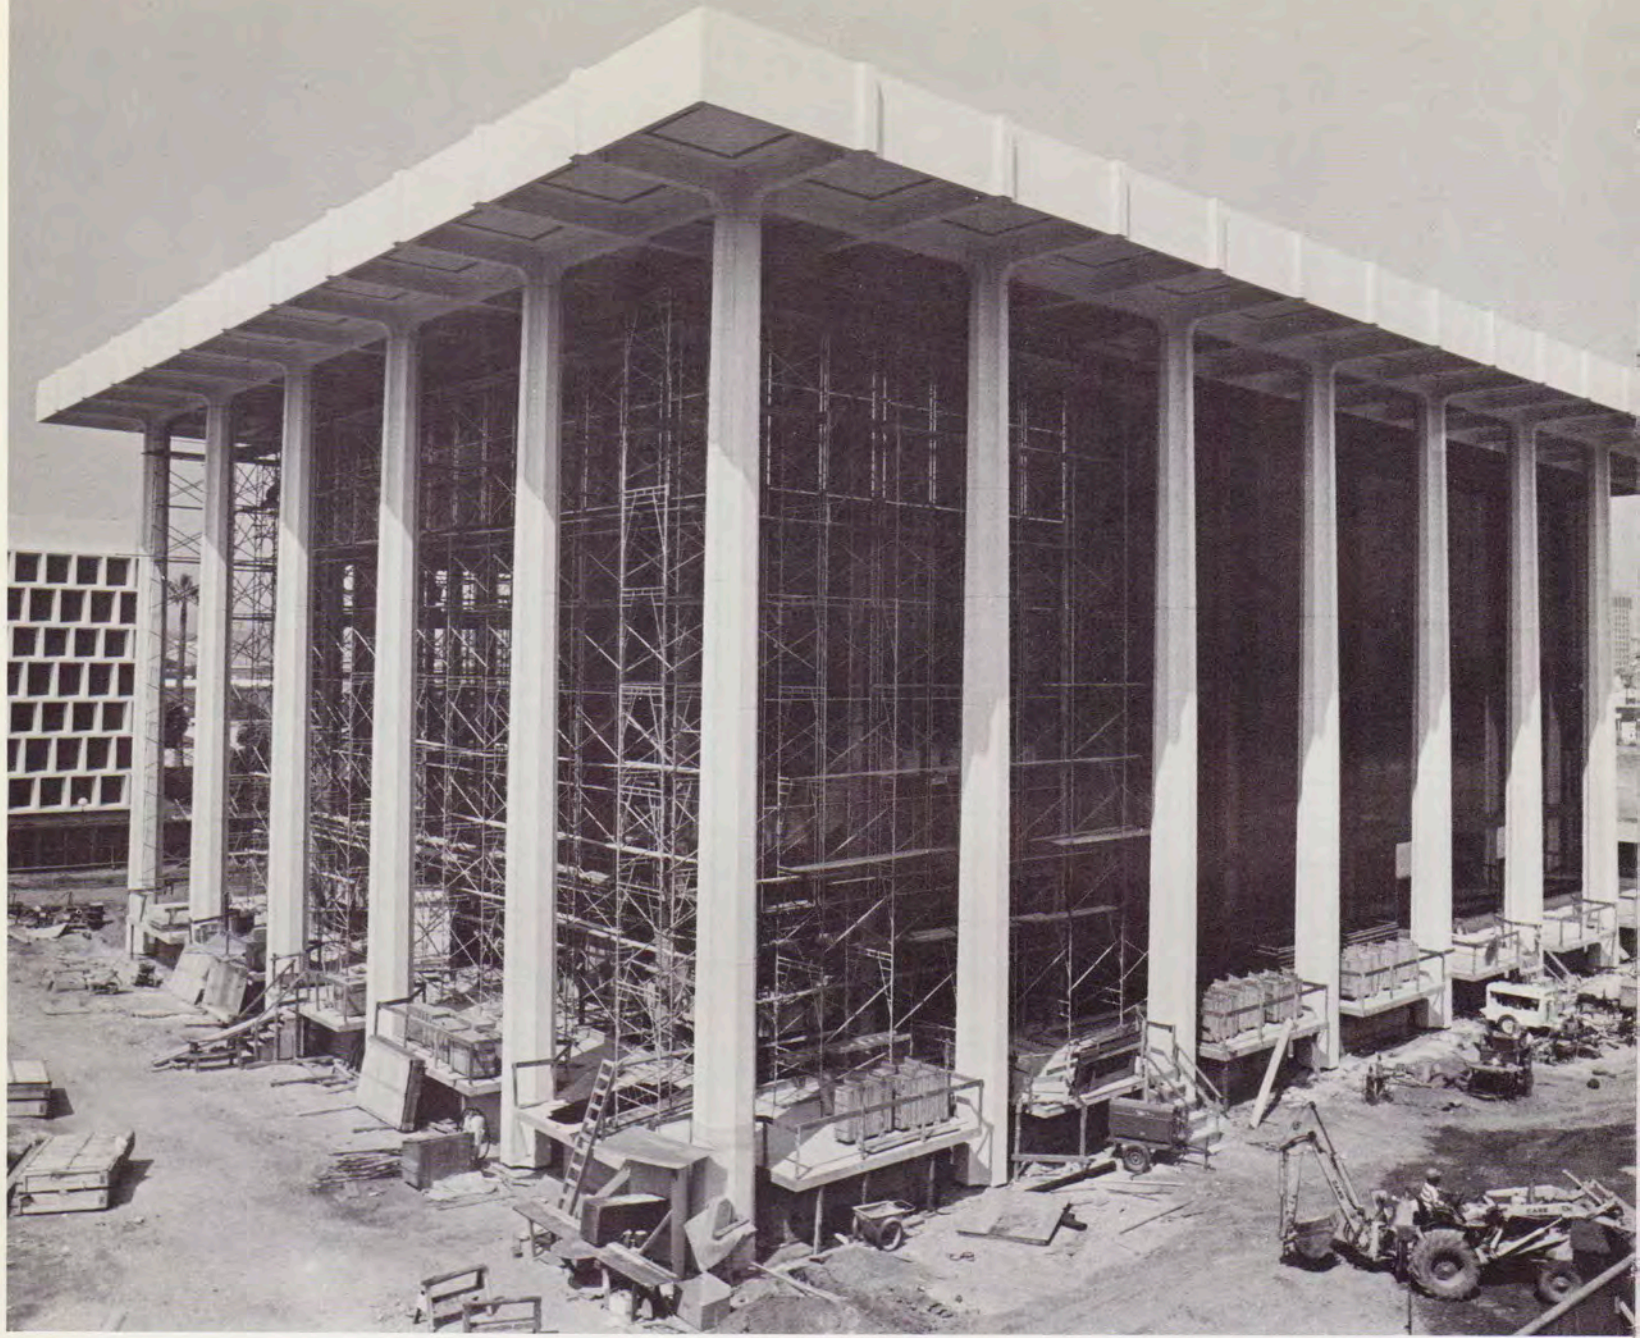

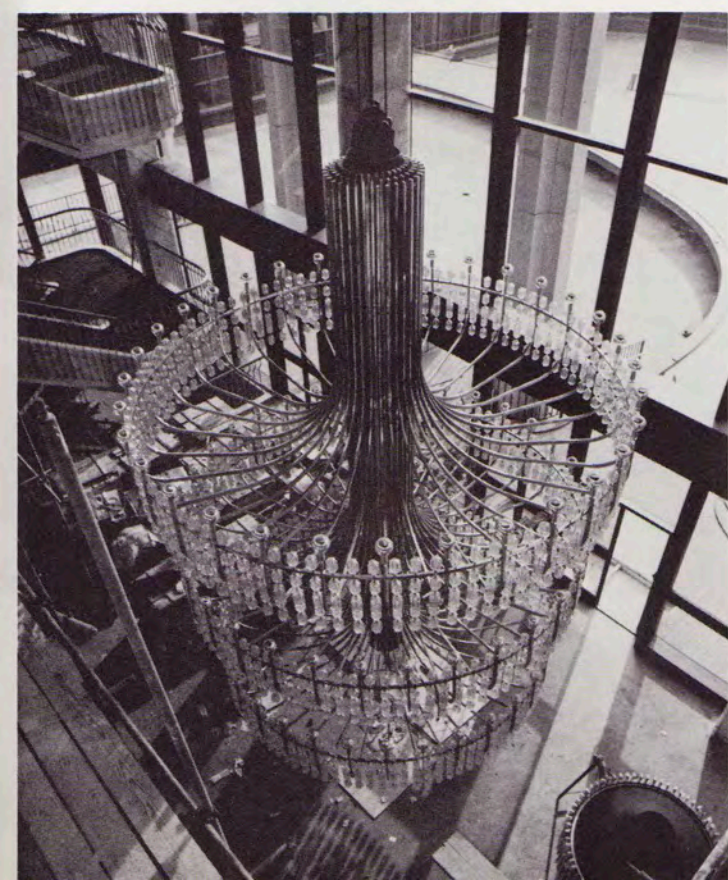

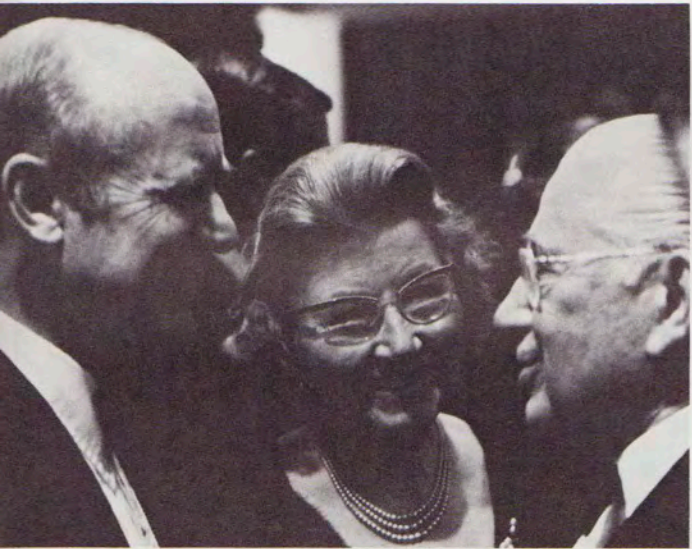

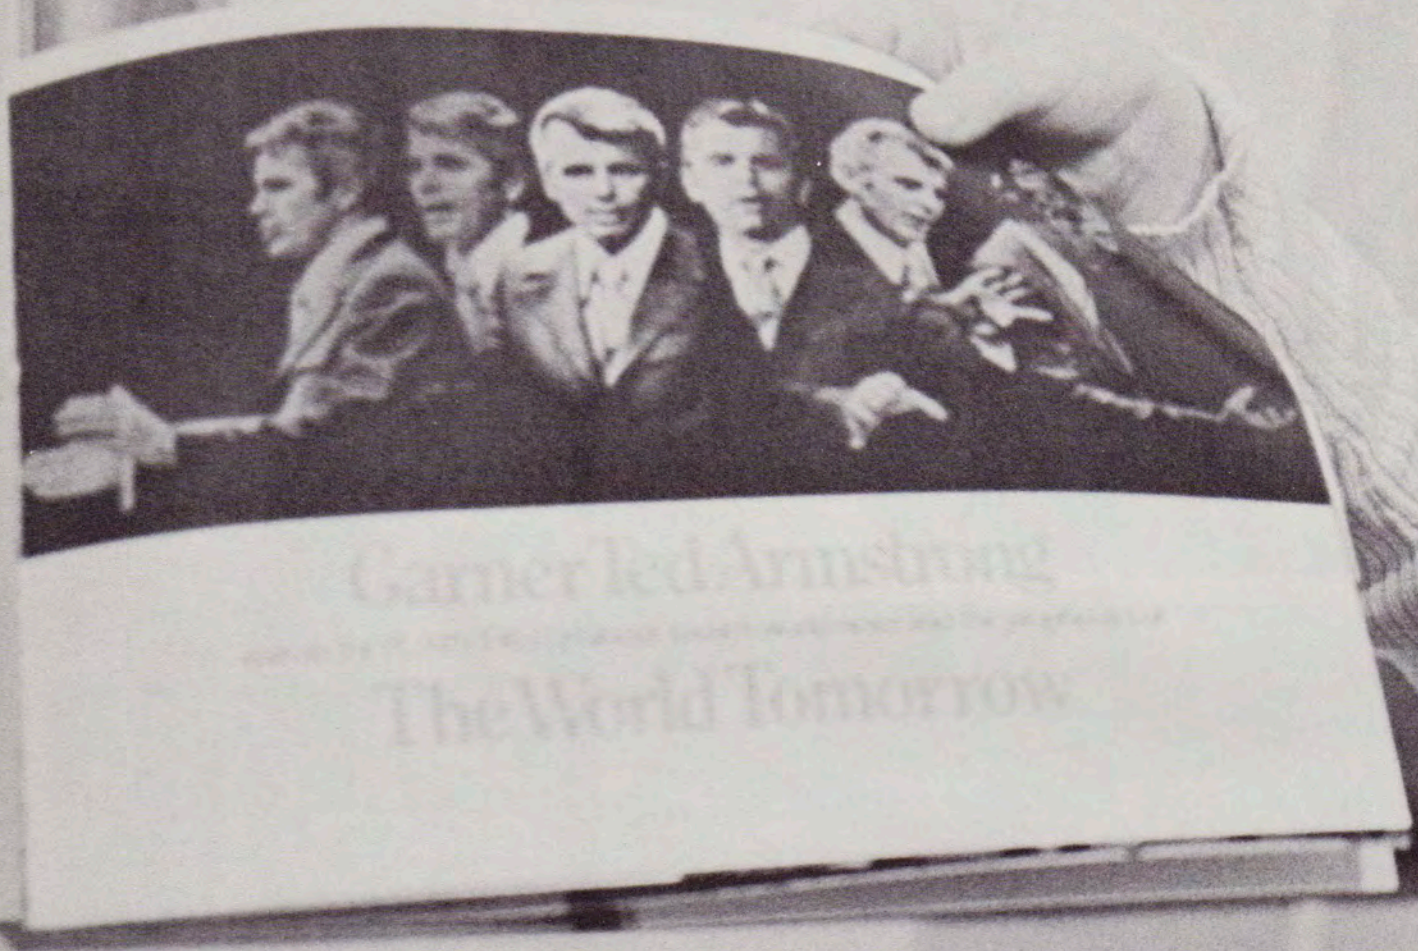

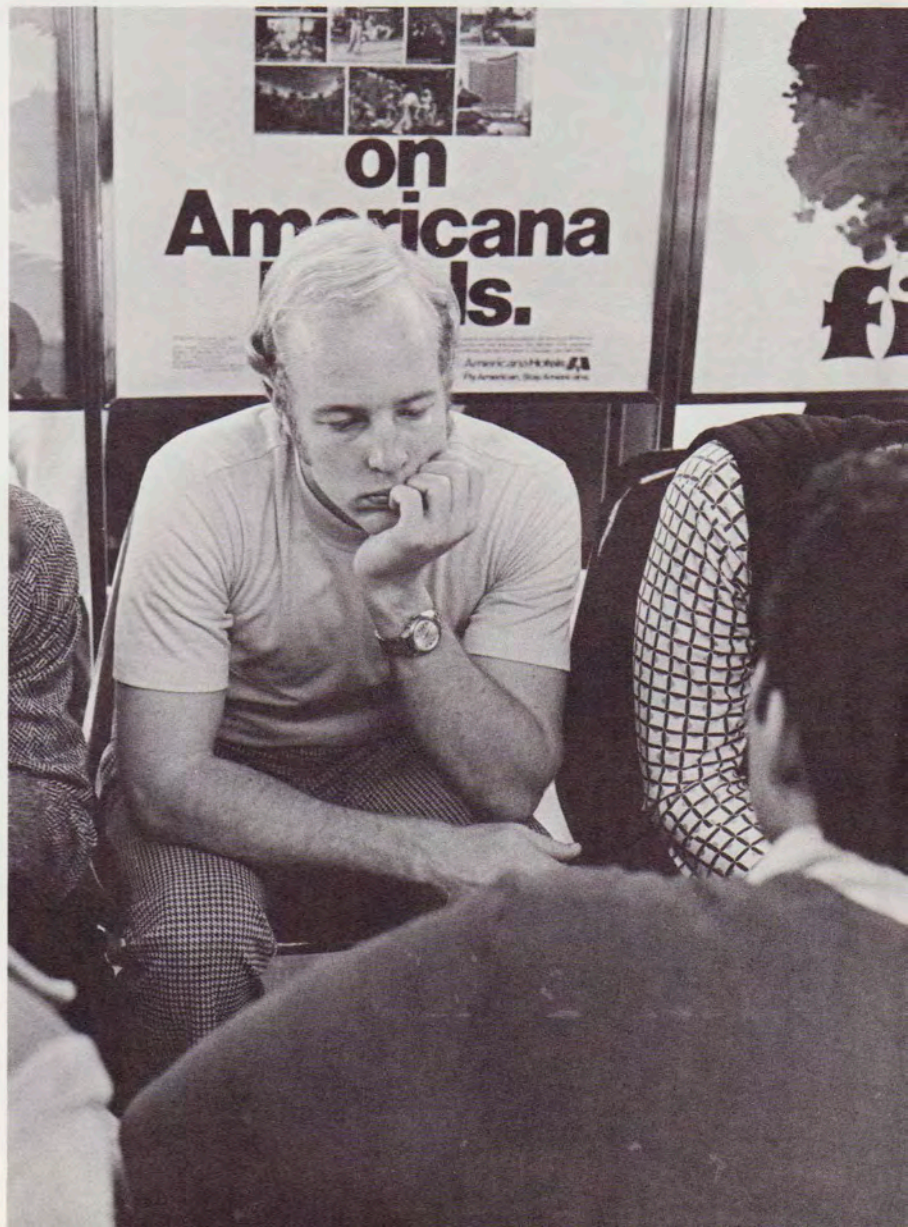

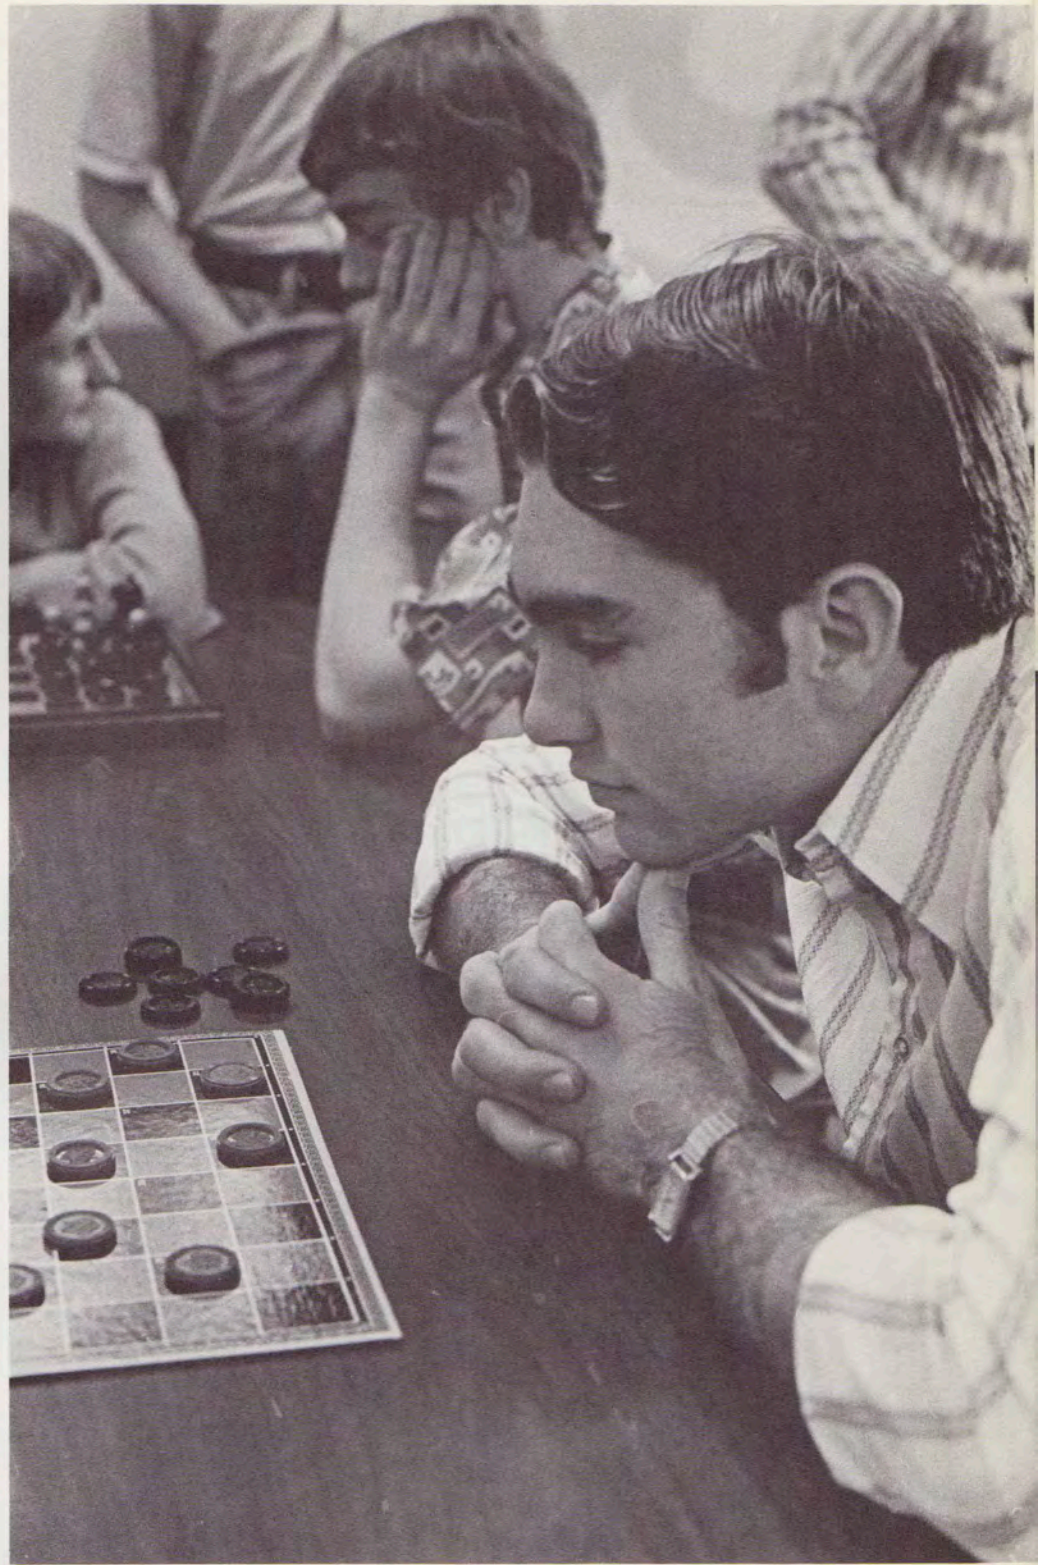

Personal Appeal

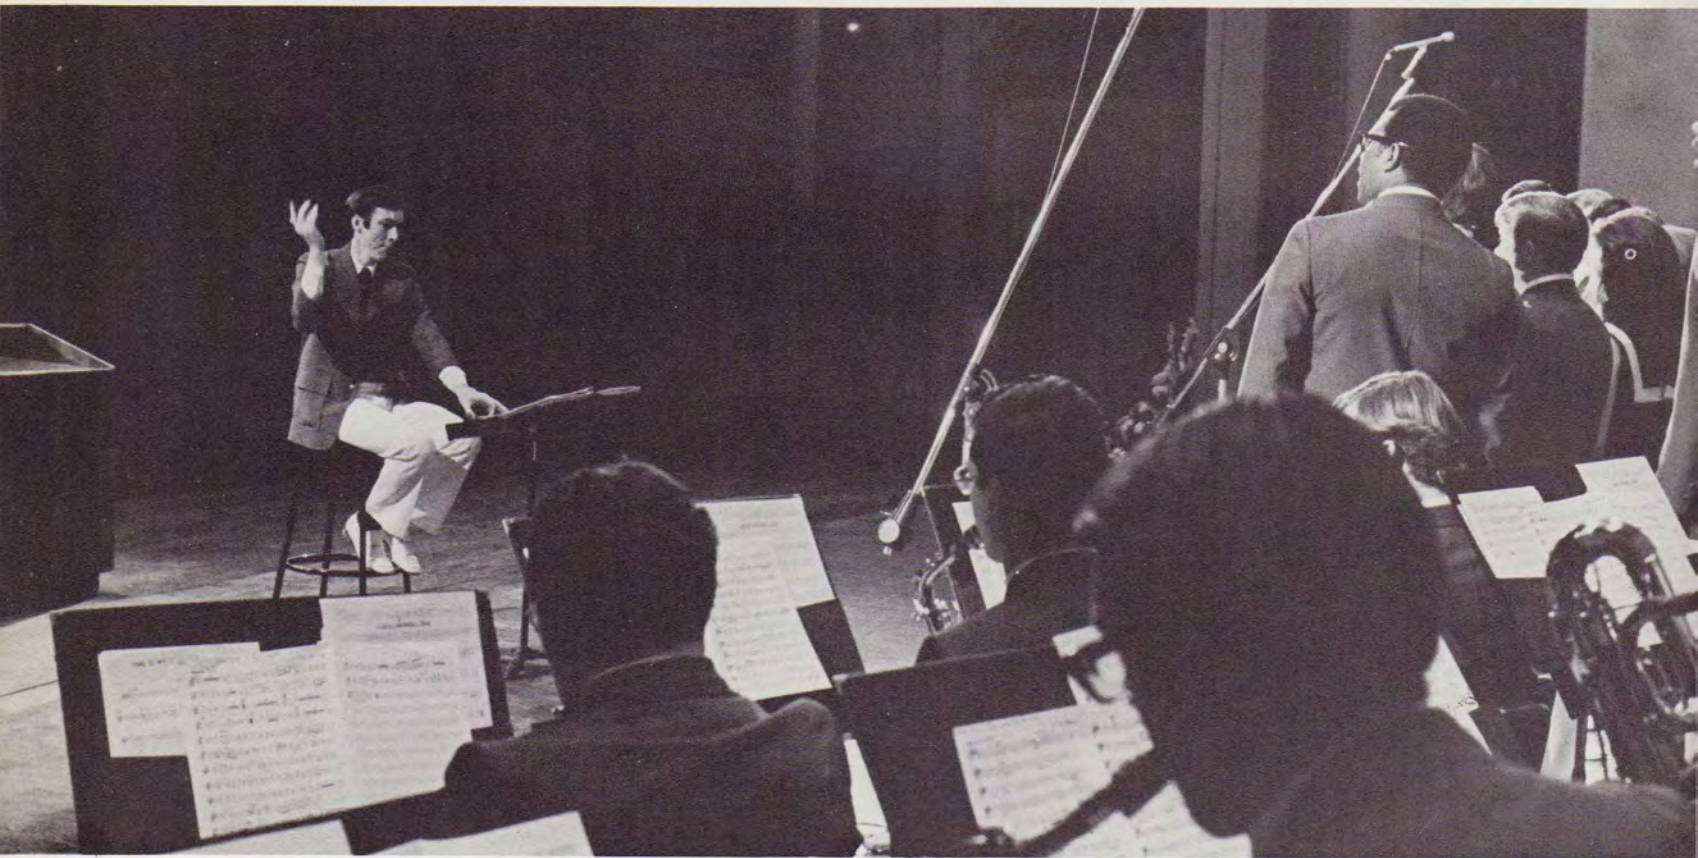

arance Tour

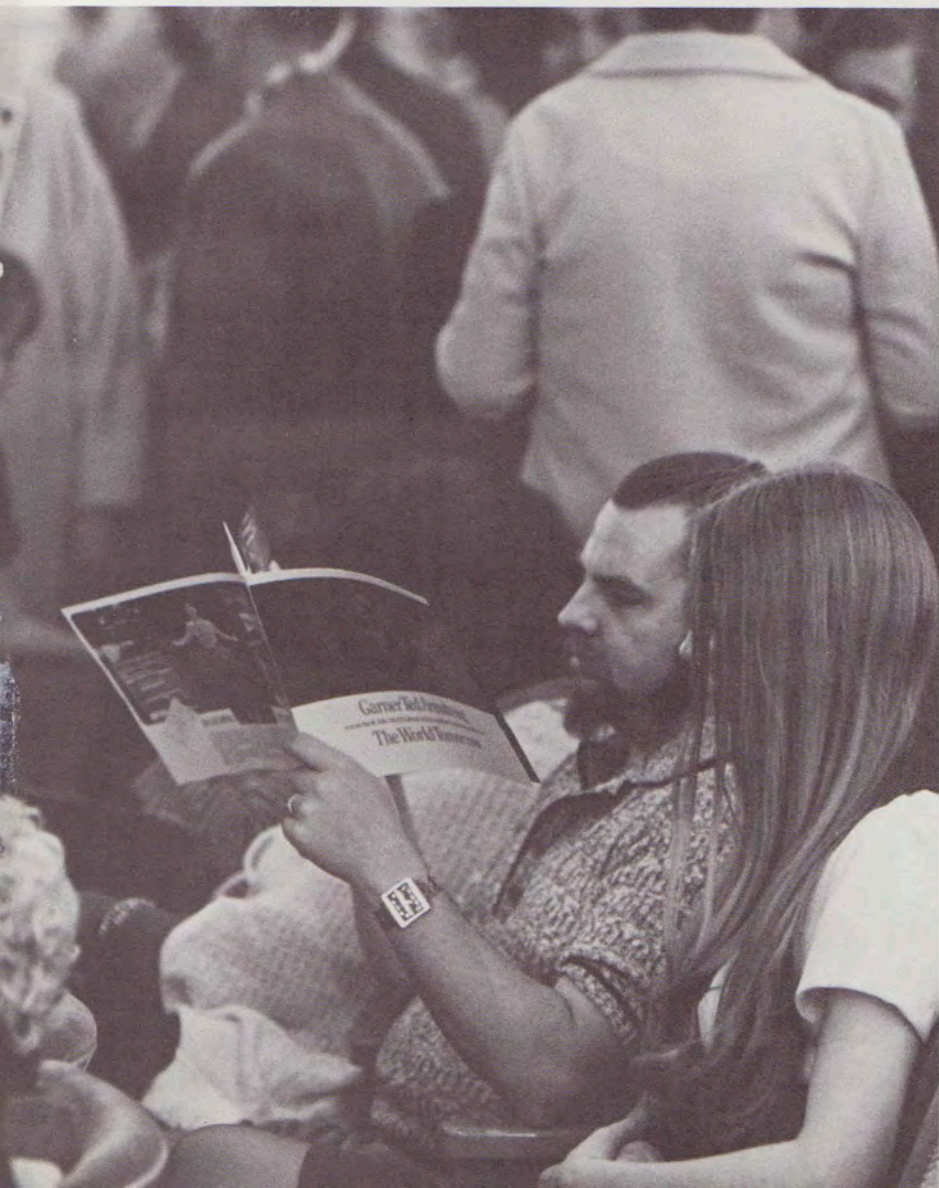

Garner Ted Armstrong in person...

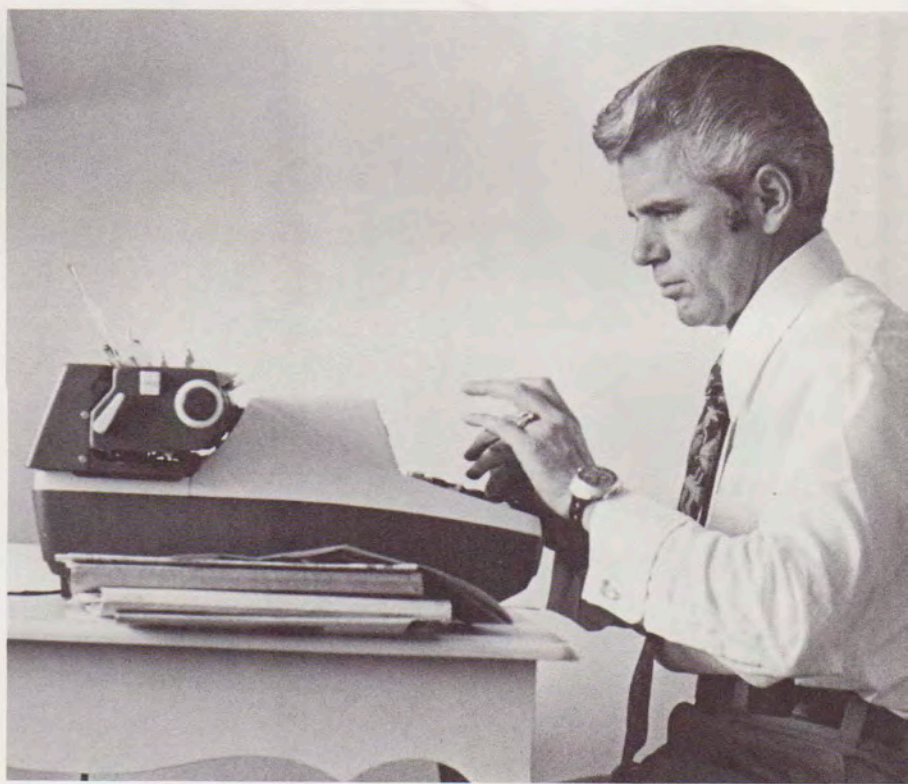

Beginning on the previous two-page spread is the story of a Garner Ted Armstrong Personal Appearance Tour. The accent is on the people who are involved in the tour -- the students, the musicians and singers, the audience and Garner Ted Armstrong himself. Each two-page spread accents a particular part of the human assemblage that makes up the excitement and value of a personal appearance.
