Magnificent Manor Del Mar

The cultural beauty of Ambassador College with its many magnificent trees, splendid buildings, rolling terraces, and rushing stream affords a stimulating atmosphere for serious study and character development.

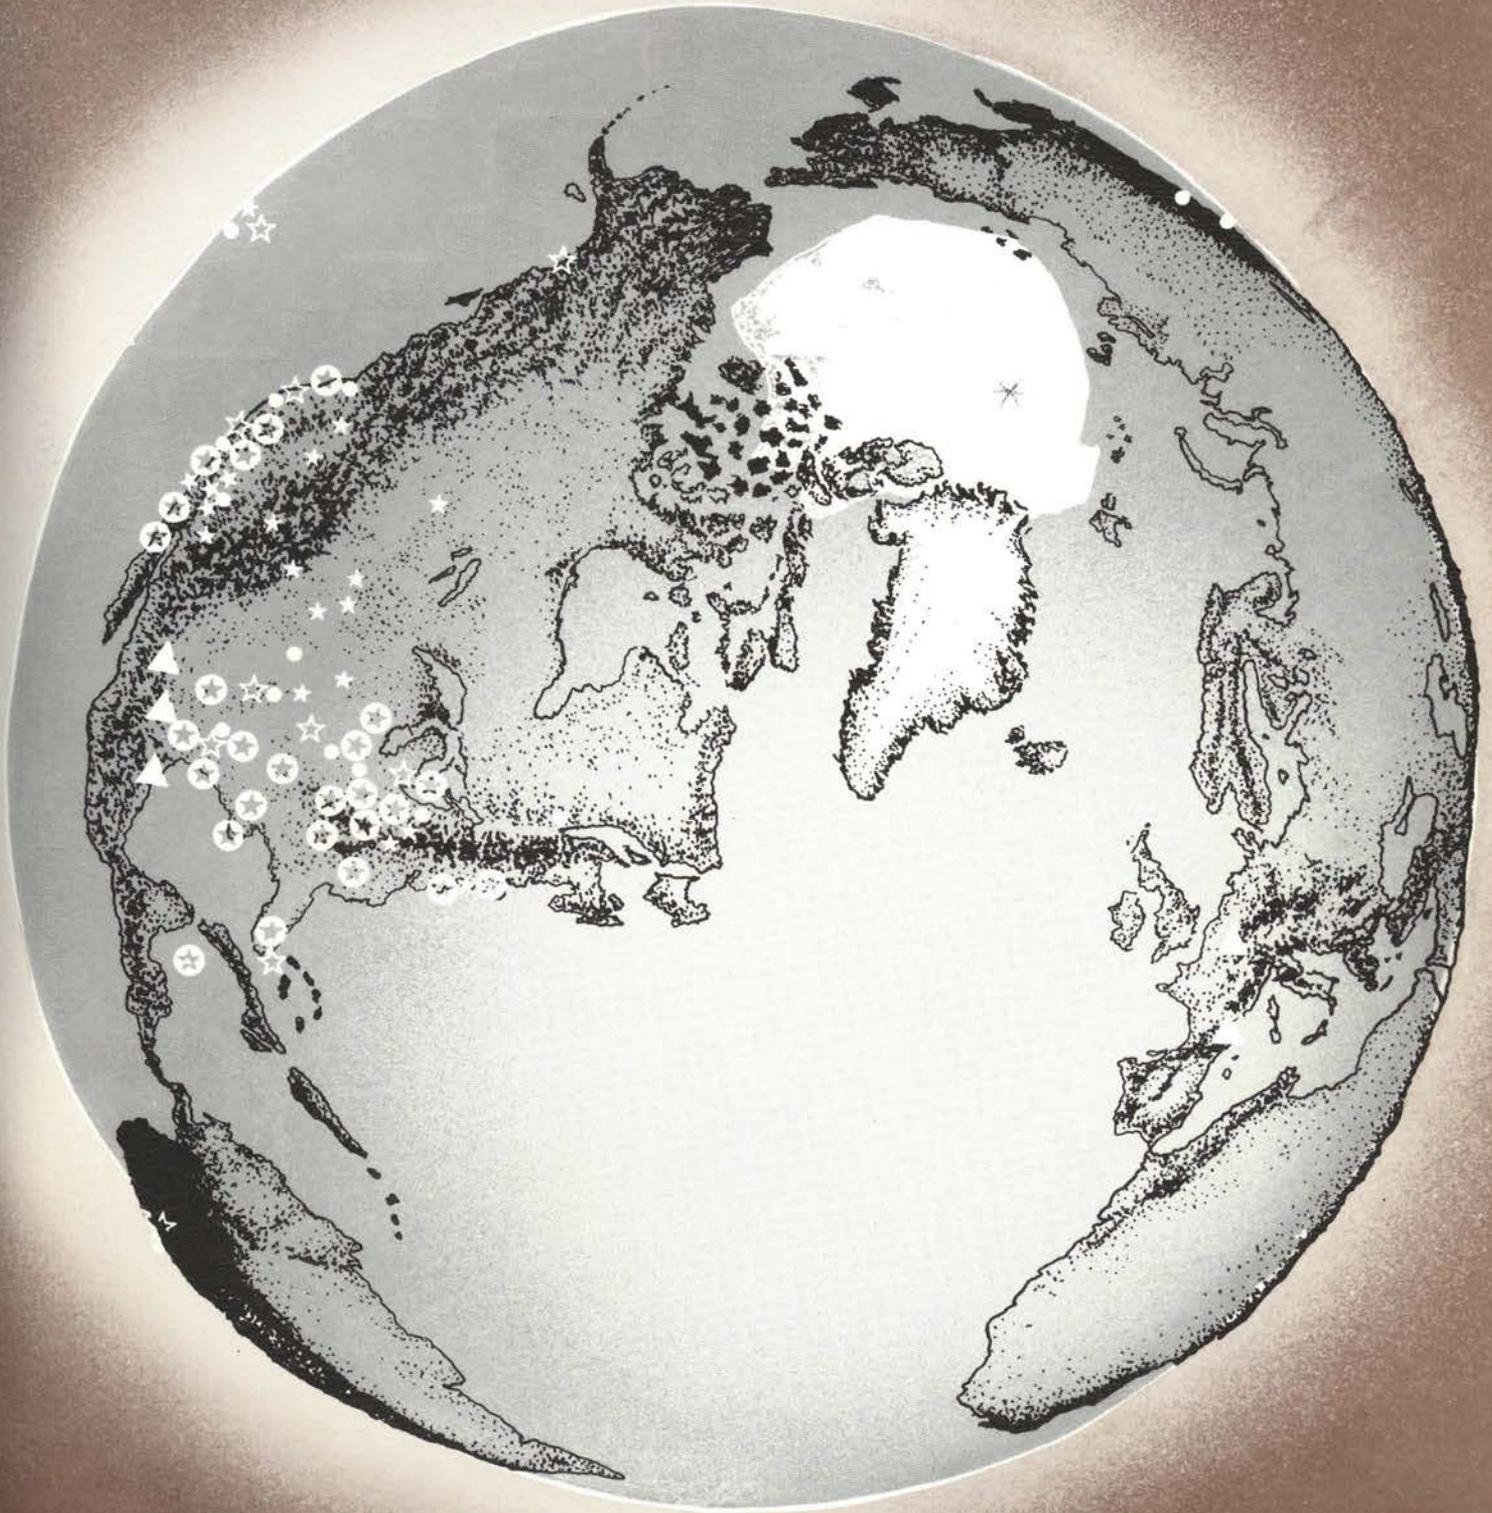

Our earth, though a speck in the universe, is to us a gigantic sphere called home. The World Tomorrow message, beamed around the globe by these stations, is turning darkness to day.

Inset: MR. NORMAN SMITH
Radio Studio Director

The above picture presents a good layout of the vitally important control room. Every master broadcast in English, French and German originates from the Ambassador College studios and is controlled from this room.

To the right is an interior view of the "dubbing room" where multiple magnetic tape reproductions are transcribed of each broadcast. These tapes are sent to all corners of the earth and become the "World Tomorrow" broadcast in your area.

to Magnetic Tapes

From Live Broadcasting . . .

A burgeoning giant in the radio field, the WORLD TOMORROW program has become the largest user of radio power on earth today. Beginning in 1934, broadcasting over a tiny 100-watt station in Eugene, Oregon, the program has skyrocketed to world-wide scope and stature. The original, uncorrupted, message of Jesus Christ is now boomed to all the earth by over thirteen million watts of radio power weekly over more than one hundred stations in eighteen nations in English, Spanish, German, Russian, French, and soon in Japanese, Portuguese and other languages. The mission is being accomplished.

A hard working, well trained corps of news analysts keeps its fingers on the news pulse of the world. This skilled unit supplies broadcasters and writers with the very latest world picture and changing trends. The never ending clack-clacking of the U. P. I. teletype machine keeps our News Bureau in direct communication with the earth's major news centers.

U.S. Gold Supply at Danger Point

... these astounding newspaper headlines again! They headline a WARNING of a United States ECONOMIC DISASTER that is already so great it has the factors in to completely destroy the foundation of our nation's economy!

(Note: A small inset image shows a newspaper clipping with the headline 'Gold Supply at Danger Point' and a sub-headline 'U.S. Economy Faces Warning'.)

startling answer prophecy!

WHO will rule SPACE?

WHY CONQUER SPACE?

Your BIBLE reveals the fact of today's worst conditions. It foretells the OUTCOME: It tells whether the U.S. is going to attack the U.S. with H-Bombs. It tells who is going to CONQUER AND BATTLE outer SPACE. It tells whether and how we are going to have WORLD PEACE!

What that meant as a startling-but prophetic program of action.

the U.S. has started a race to conquer outer space.

the U.S. has started a race to conquer outer space.

the U.S. has started a race to conquer outer space.

ALARMING changes in the weather!

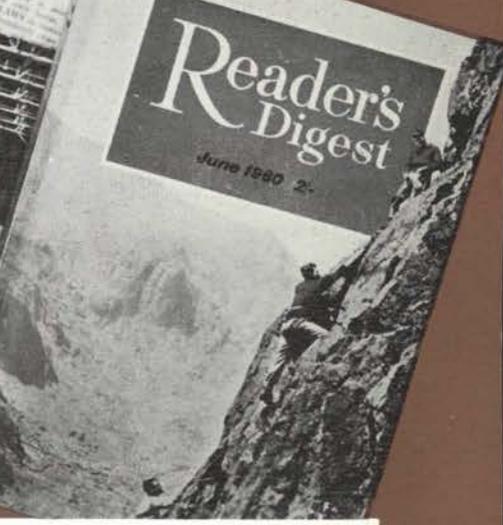

PROPHECY for 1975?

There are many signs that the weather is changing. Scientists all over the world are reporting reports of unusual heat, sudden snowing.

Not long ago we saw a new television the very same as the old one. There are reports of unusual heat, sudden snowing.

What is happening?

There are many signs that the weather is changing. Scientists all over the world are reporting reports of unusual heat, sudden snowing.

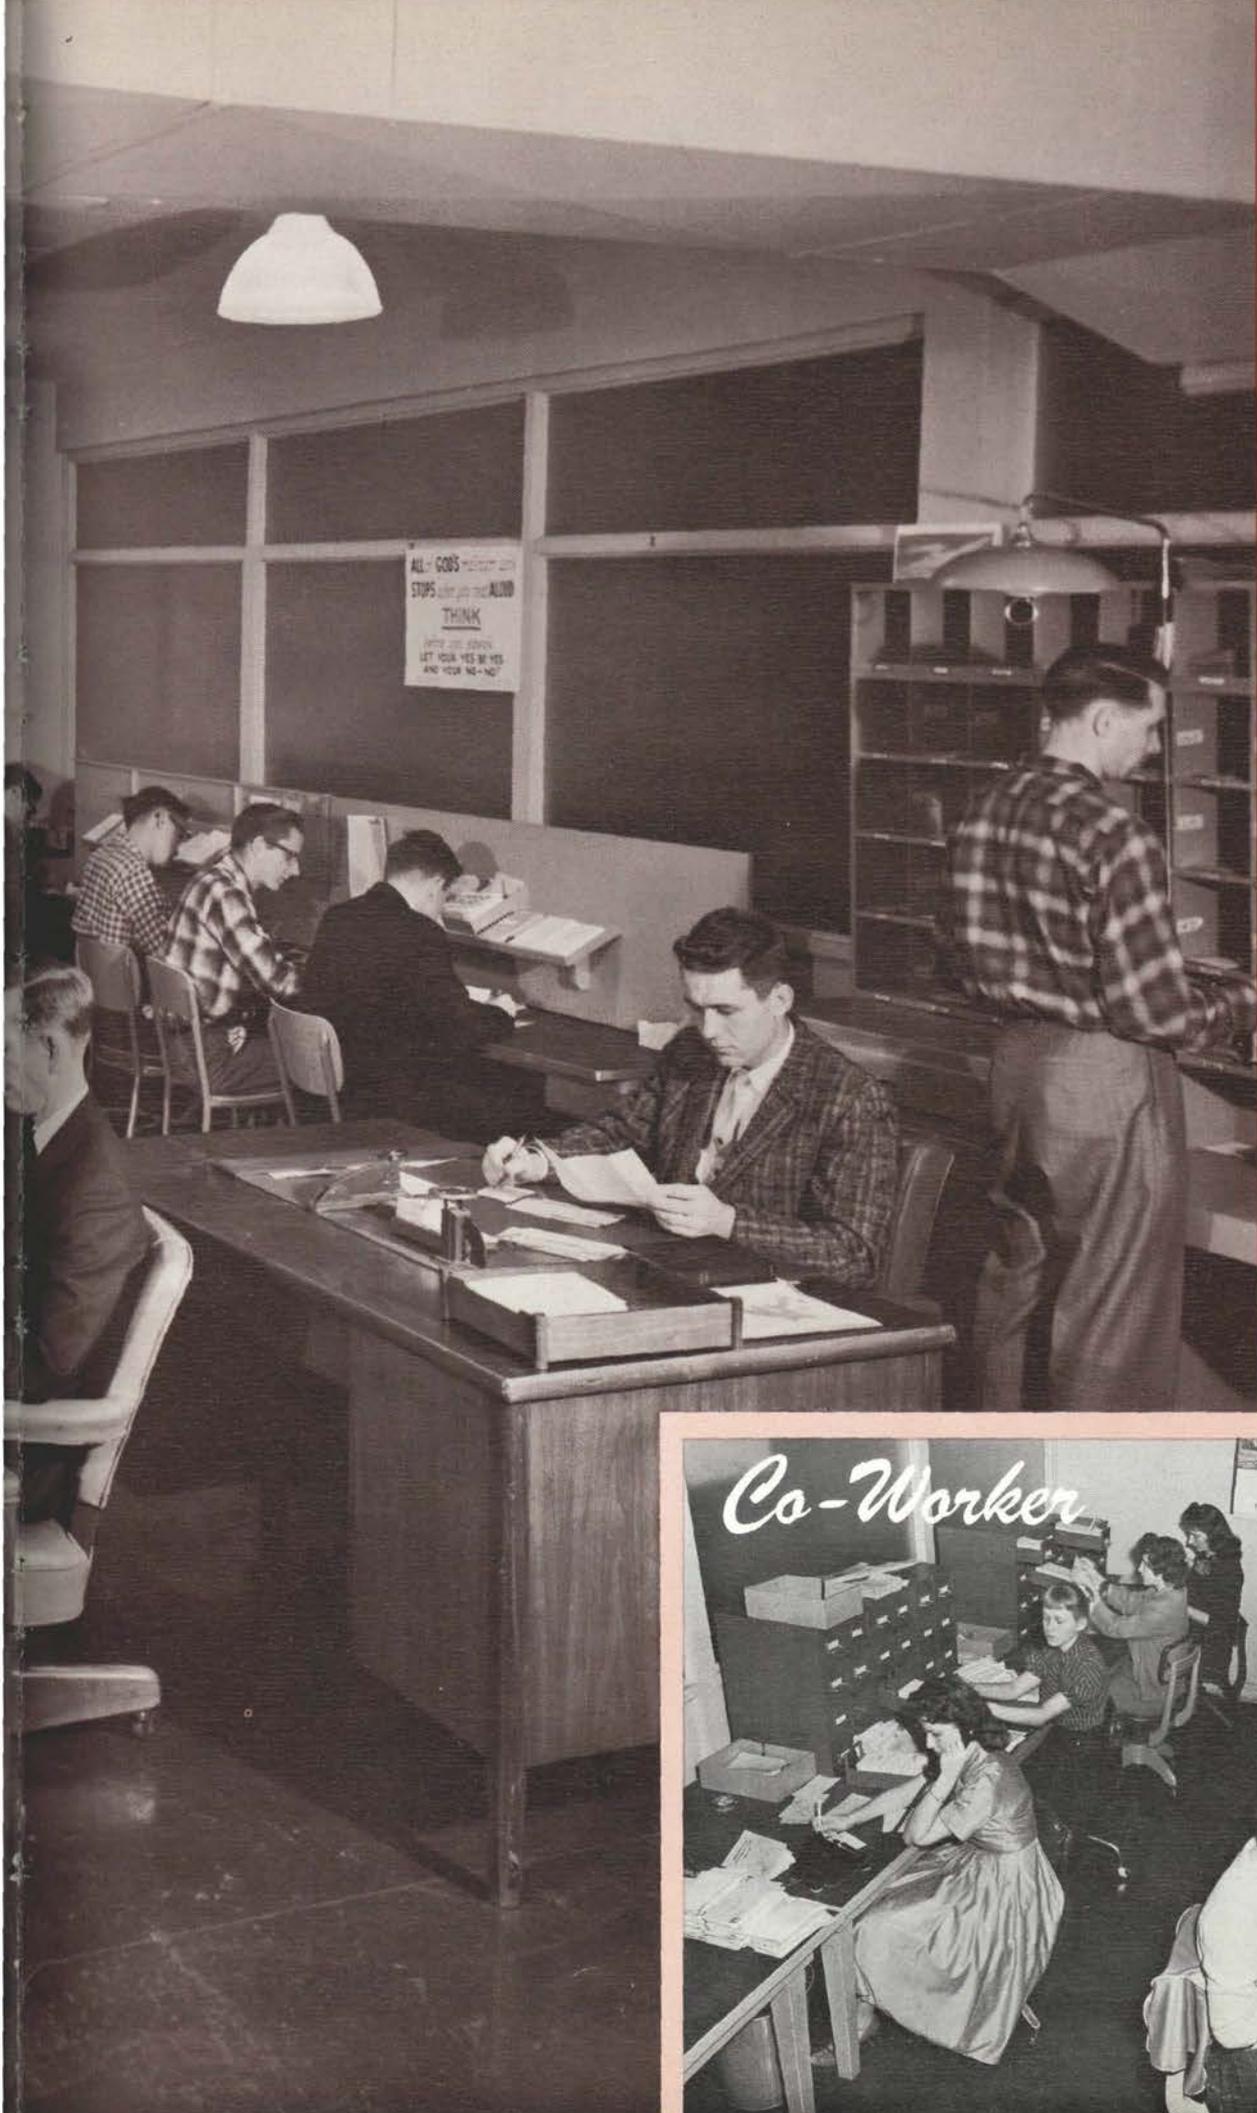

Growing beyond the bounds of radio, Christ's warning message now goes to the world via the largest mass circulation medium in history, The Reader's Digest. This will eventually provide a worldwide circulation for the gospel message of more than 21,000,000 copies printed in 36 editions in 13 languages across all continents. World surveys show the Reader's Digest to be the most effective, widely read magazine on earth, reaching nearly one-third of the world's English speaking population. Two page articles are currently being placed in the English, Australian, and New Zealand editions. We hope to expand soon to German, South African, Canadian, and United States editions—and eventually, to every edition printed, covering the earth with the hard hitting truth of the Bible message. This cosmopolitan distribution gives us an excellent opportunity to reach the literate, thinking people of all lands with the gripping, moving Gospel of Christ.

Every Letter Read

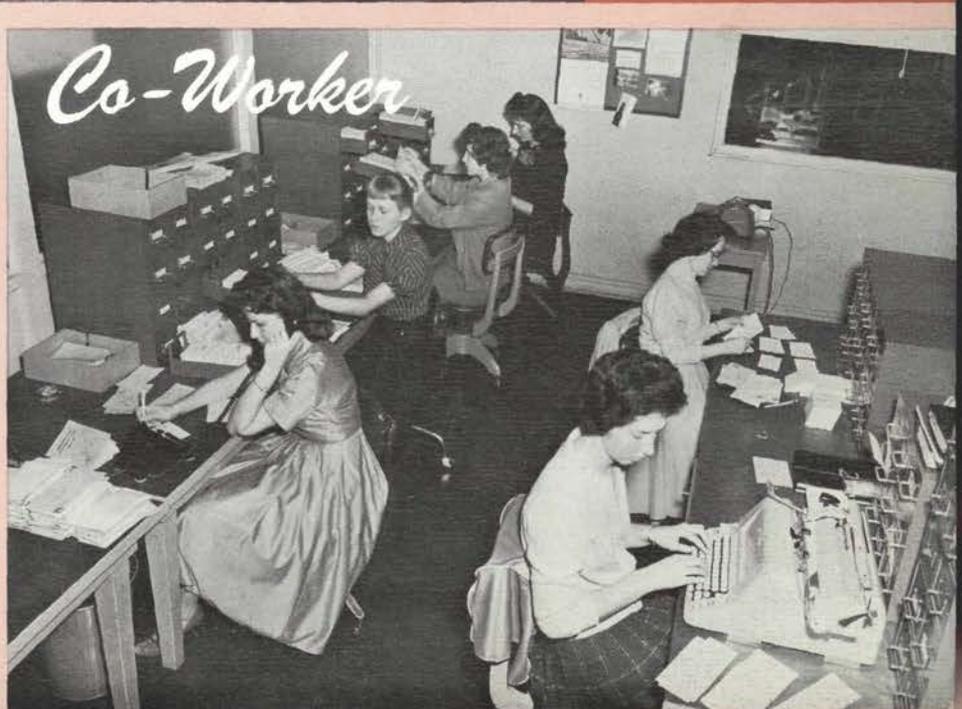

A staff of forty specially trained students and graduates is employed to read every letter sent in. During the year ending January 1, 1961, this department read, marked, and channeled for reply a staggering avalanche of 621,000 letters. Every letter is answered. Requested literature is mailed, usually, the same day. Hundreds of letters every week are given personal answer.

A six member "Co-Worker" staff (lower right) is strong testimony to the generosity and sacrifice of thousands of loyal Co-Workers. To this willing, faithfully devoted corps of supporters, is owed a debt of gratitude that words cannot repay. In this department a complete record is kept on file of every individual Co-Worker's tithes and offerings, and the date each amount is received.

Every Letter Answered

A dedicated staff of fourteen highly trained ministers and advanced students is devoted to helping you find scriptural answers to the many personal problems and questions not solved or answered by any other means. Each letter receives personal attention and is the equivalent of a private consultation. Twenty typists are required to type the letters these men dictate. The most modern dictating machines and electric typewriters speed up this most important work.

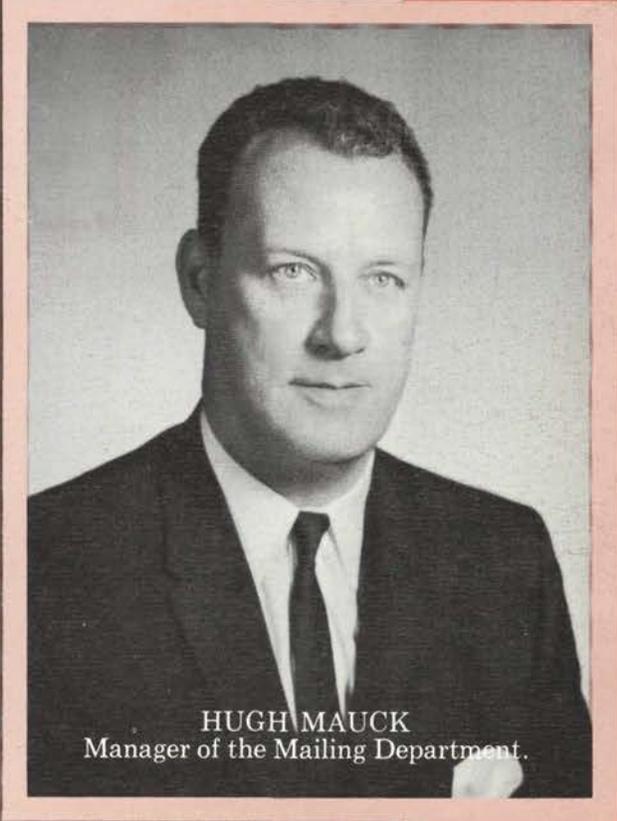

Ambassador College Press Mailing

Typing Section

Nimble fingered typists work diligently to keep up with the thousands of daily requests for literature. Thirty girl students type out addresses to keep us current with this flood of requests. No small cog in our work, the Mailing Department addressed and sent, this past year, 5,265,000 pieces of literature apart from regular, monthly publications.

Manager of the Mailing Department.

Addressing And Mailing Department

The fantastic growth of the broadcast and publication work brought many changes in our filing and mailing departments during 1960. Increase in The Plain Truth circulation to more than 300,000 copies has forced us to install the same type of mailing equipment used by such mass-circulation magazines as LIFE, Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal. The integration of a new I.B.M. electronic, punch-card file system (far right) will enable us to give better service than ever to a rapidly growing list of subscribers.

Using a photo-electrically addressed tape, the high-speed addressing machine (above) addresses 18,000 Plain Truths per hour. An estimated 4,000,000 will be sent to Everywhere, U.S.A. in 1961.

Older equipment still does heavy duty on many smaller jobs (right).

OUTGOING MAIL

An hour of study? A chance meeting? A few minutes quiet conversation? All these situations and others are provided to the Ambassador College student by the Library and its surroundings.

Vigorous Activity!

Outside, inside, all around the campus everyone is industrious. Office work, painting, gardening, construction—these keep students hard at work. Purposeful classes—Bible, speech, languages, journalism, inspire students to be academically alert. Tennis, track, volleyball, handball, provide physical recreation—a vital part of college life.

Below you are thirty magnificent acres with the original two and a quarter acre purchase outlined in white. Carpet like lawns, a swiftly flowing stream, tall majestic trees make Ambassador stand out as a jewel in the South Orange Grove Avenue residential district.

A DAY ON THE CAMPUS

An inviting scene—What could be more refreshing than a dip into this magnificent pool. The far end opens into a sunlit patio protected from winds and weather by a green carpeted embankment.

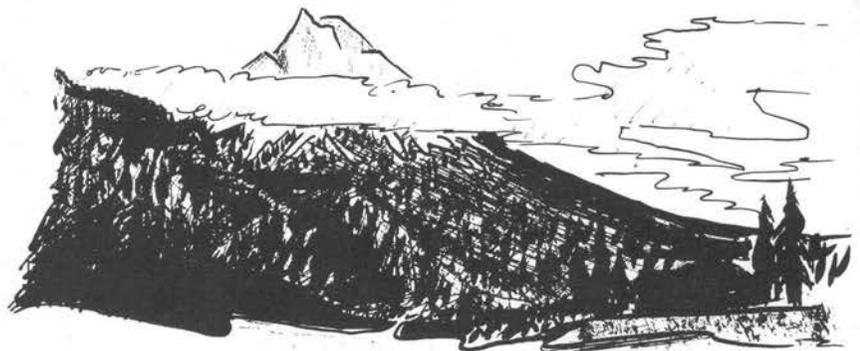

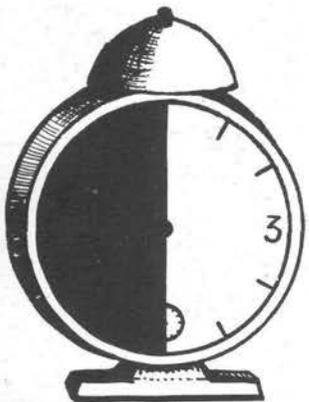

Off to an Early

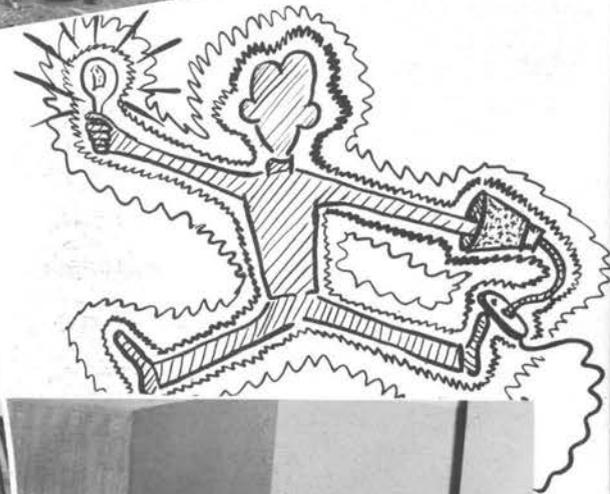

Wake up Fred! Morning exercise and classes await you.

Mr. Dorothy holds everyone's attention in an International Relations class.

Above: Willing hands create an ever more beautiful campus. Many Ambassador students keep fit working in the gardening and maintenance crews.

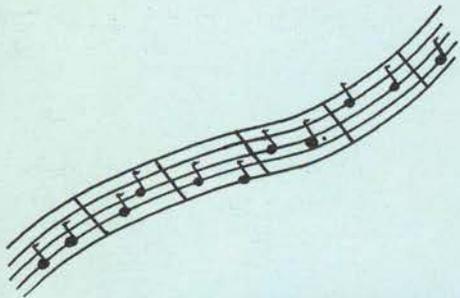

Middle: We all have to eat. The girls may find employment opportunities preparing deliciously healthful meals in our new, modern kitchen.

Right: An appreciative audience always enjoys the annual Fashion Show in which the young ladies of the Home Economics Department model apparel they have made.

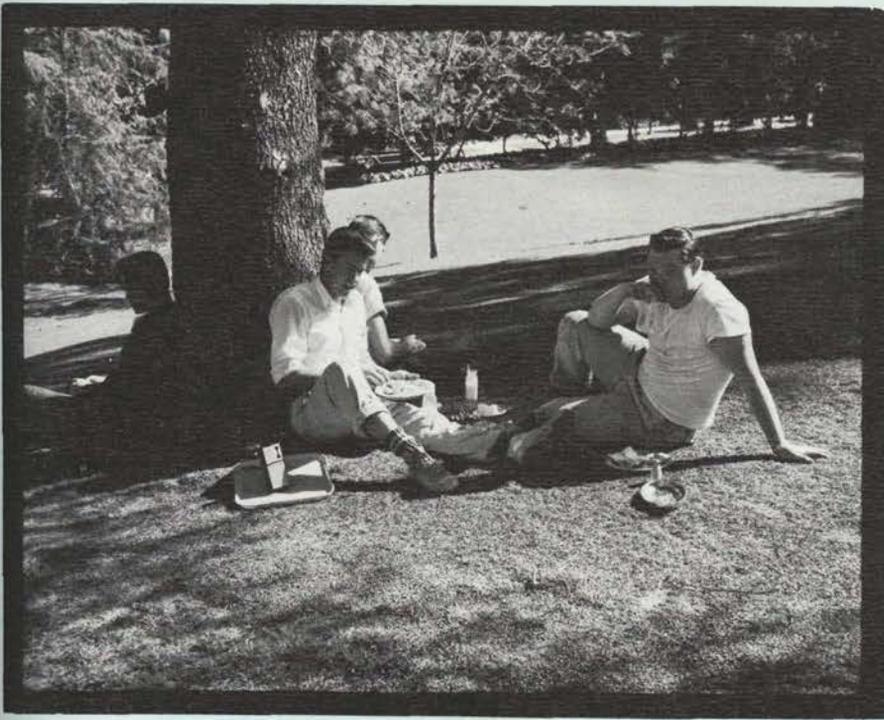

The student body gives its undivided attention to a description of the college in England by Mr. Meredith. These student-faculty meetings provide stimulated hours of instruction, entertainment and discussion.

Individual students and choral groups receive quality instruction from our Music Department.

Mayfair's spacious lawn affords a pleasant setting for lunch for these students on the construction crew. Kings never ate in such pleasant surroundings. Just ask these men.

Evening

A day of work and study may be followed by Ambassador Club pictured here. "What about this subject?" Members are asked to speak extemporaneously, thinking on their feet, answering pop questions, thus developing original thought and a lively, interesting personality.

Six minutes is the time limit on formal speeches and an evaluator is taking notes from the second the speaker stands up until he sits down. He is an improved speaker the next time.

A fake "Mexican Revolution" is taken with good humor by the Spanish Club.

Handel's musical production "The Messiah" presented by the Ambassador Chorale is an evening to be remembered.

The Spring Concert of the Ambassador College Orchestra conducted by Mr. Russel Reiner. The precision and skill of the musicians was a delight to all who were present.

Hard Pressed for Time to Study?

Hurry girls! Lights out at 10:30.

A day in the great outdoors filled with fun, sun, and excitement. Barton Flats in the mountains near Redlands, California, provided the setting. Hiking in the snow, treasure hunts and games were wholesome recreation. A delicious outdoor dinner of hamburgers and chili satisfied many an appetite, sharpened by the invigorating air of 7,000 feet elevation. Returning home all agreed that this trip was a memorable occasion.

A Visit to Marineland

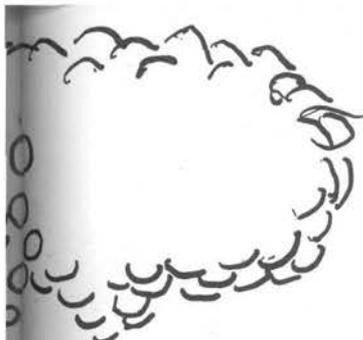

That first view of the Pacific Ocean for our freshmen—then hours of fascination watching the aquatic life in these huge tanks. Can a porpoise be taught tricks? A whale, a seal? Adventure never ends in our search into the created world.

ANNUAL

A year of anticipation is climaxed with mouth-watering ice cream, cantaloupe, and assorted delicacies.

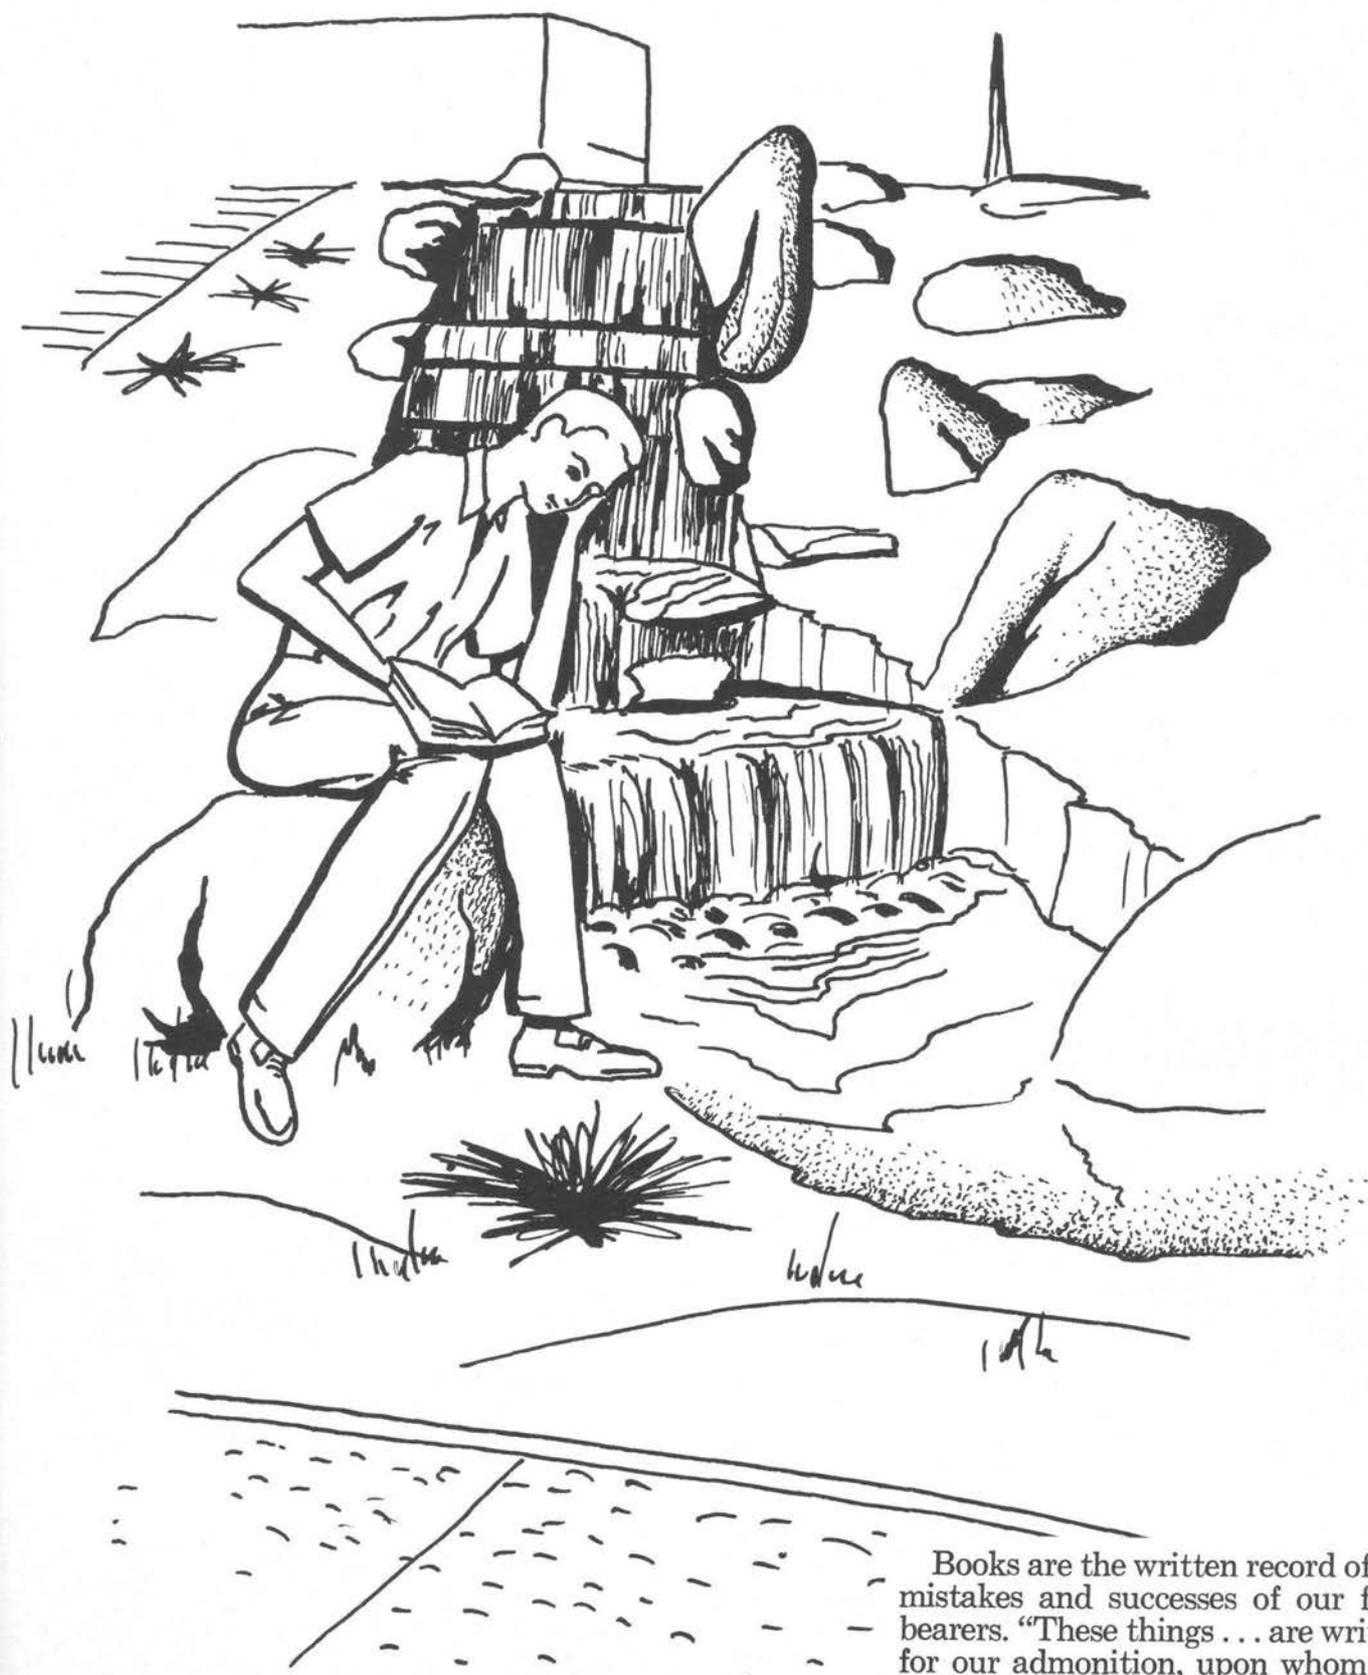

Smiling students try to hide forlorn feelings for their departing friends. Innermost feelings of love and concern are avidly penned in one another's yearbook.

Here shown is only one of the presses, and one of the staff of printers in the modern printing shop in the Ambassador Press building. These imposing presses print directly from type or rubber printing plates. Tons of copies of our booklets, in six languages, emerge with a continual roar; the annual letter to the entire mailing list of 300,000 is also produced by these machines.

SOPHOMORES

Books are the written record of the mistakes and successes of our forebearers. "These things . . . are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come."

Modern, high speed machines in our newly remodeled, offset printing department produce a steady stream of quality publications including the Bible Correspondence Course in three languages, reprints of numerous articles which have appeared in the Plain Truth, and our campus newspaper, The Portfolio.

The offset printing department is housed in a separate building across the street from the ultra-modern Ambassador College Press building.

NEW AMBASSADORS

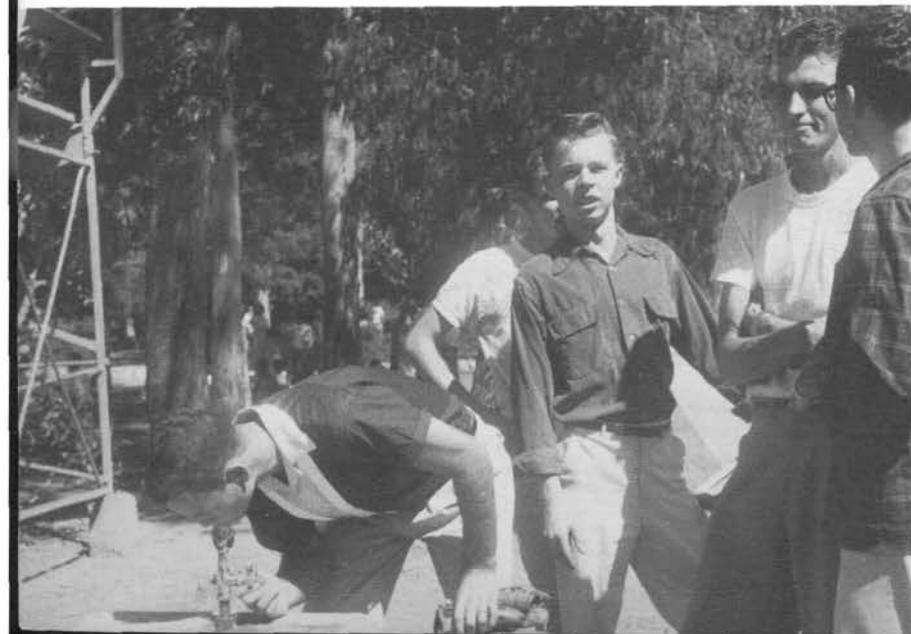

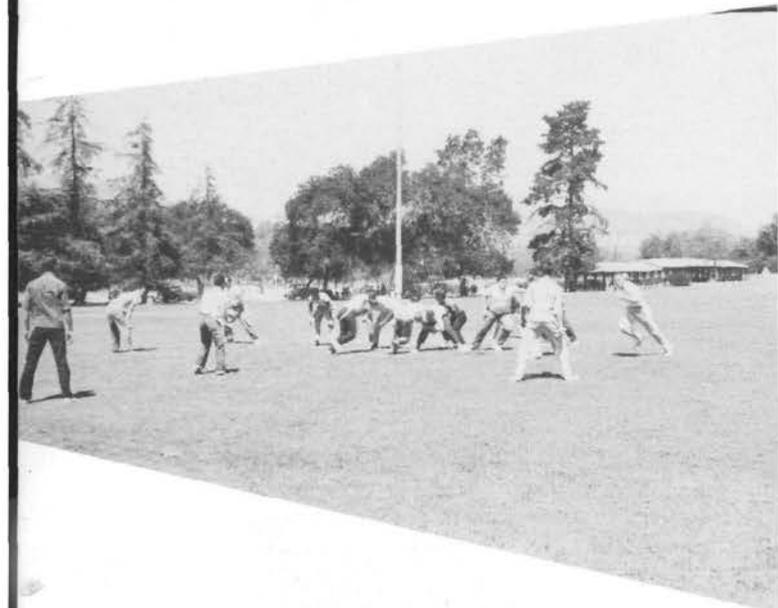

Handwritten notes in cursive script, partially illegible, located below the illustration.

Sons and daughters from almost all our fifty states, even from nations abroad, seek the priceless opportunity to begin their training as Ambassadors of the World Tomorrow.

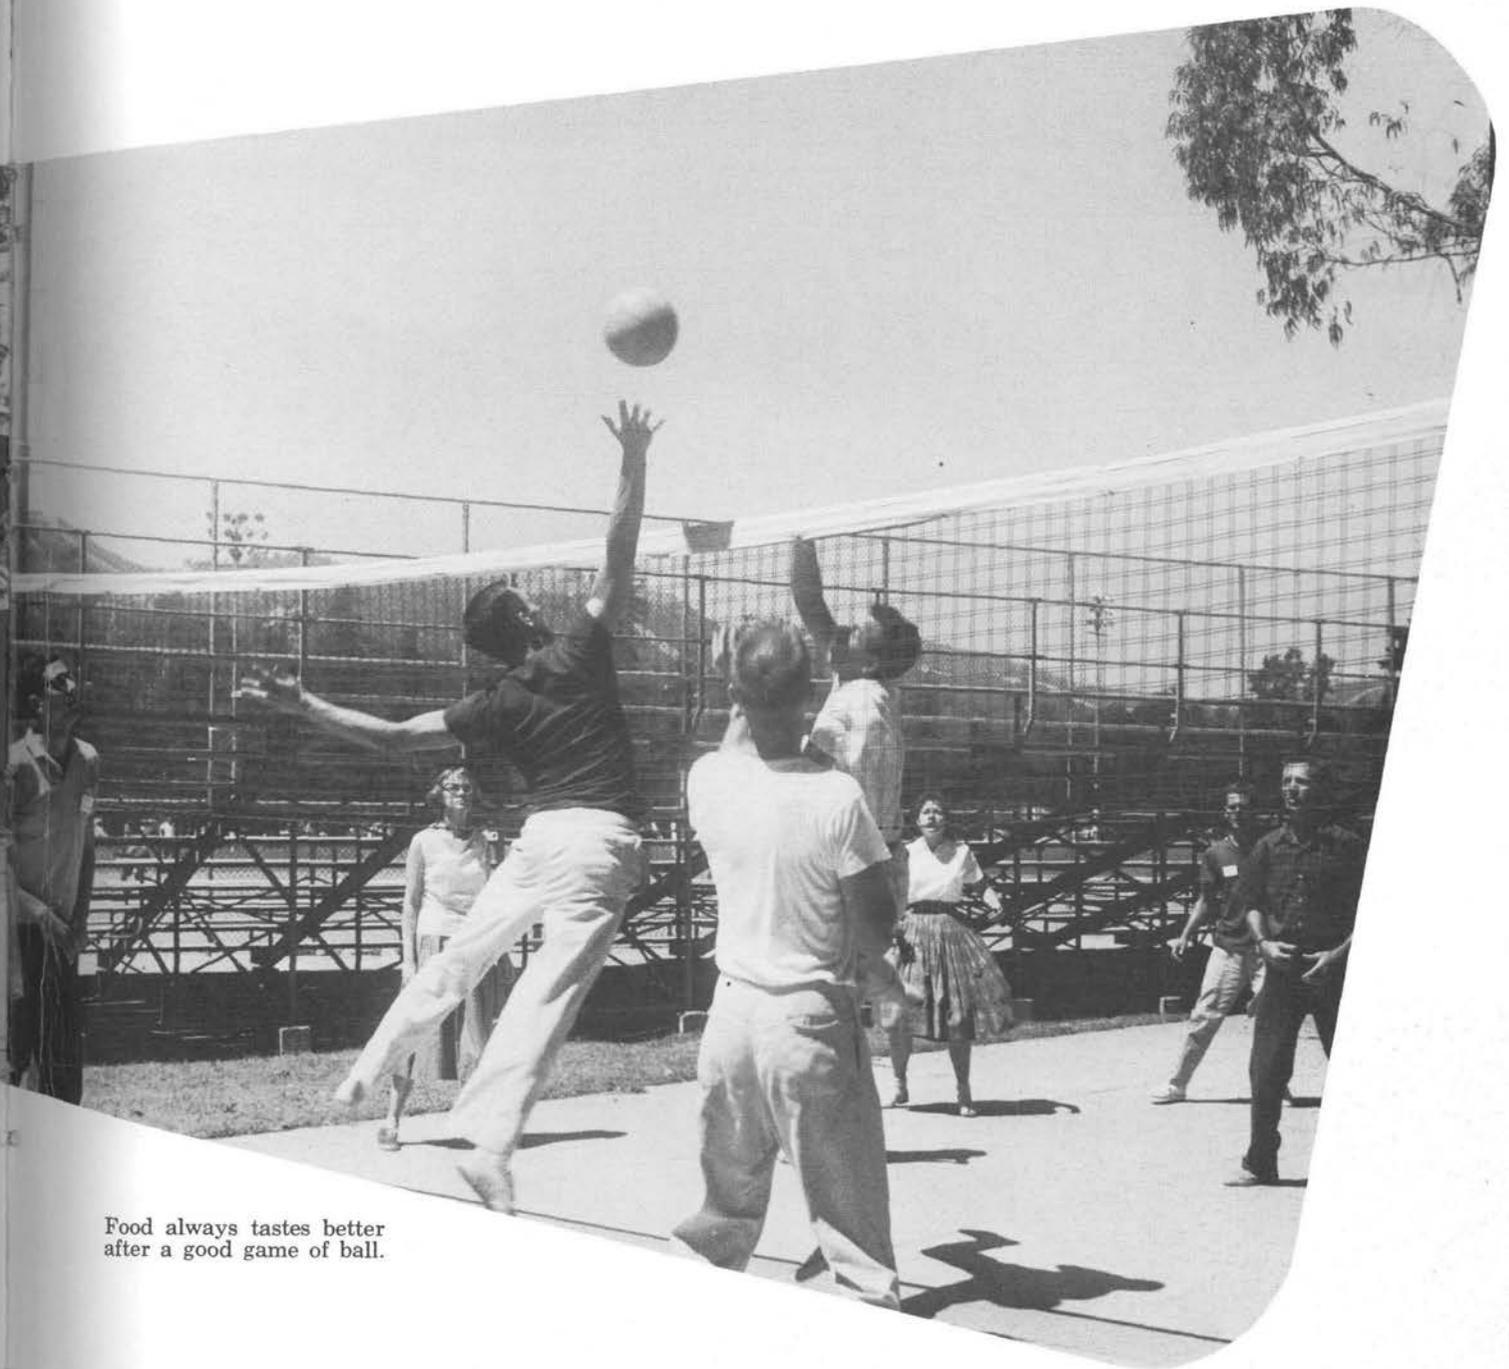

Without our coeds, meal time would be rather slim.

Drink up fellows!

The Freshmen "Get Acquainted" Picnic

Food always tastes better after a good game of ball.

The year begins with the Freshmen Picnic, providing the students with an opportunity to get acquainted and to enjoy some active fun.

Faculty Reception

In the cultural atmosphere of Ambassador Hall, the 1960 Freshmen Class was introduced to an appreciative faculty. Ninety six new students thoroughly enjoyed themselves throughout a pleasant evening on their first formal occasion of the year. Beautiful music and delicious refreshments lent that "certain charm" to a delightful evening.

... "May I present . . . ?" Mr. Hunting introduces Paul Flatt.

The big moment is here—Mounting the steps to Ambassador Hall.

Faculty

Small talk begins the evening as students enter Ambassador Hall.

Sparkling smiles radiate under torch light.

Refreshments are always a delight.

Reception

Big smiles and friendly greetings are in order. The orchestra plays softly.

Happy Freshmen emerge all smiles.

The evening is concluded as students discuss prospects for the coming year.

Classes

Typical classes in progress. These pictures show the First Year class in Church History and the Third Year class in International Relations (lower picture) being conducted by Mr. Meredith and Dr. Rea respectively.

Ambassador College maintains a high ratio of competent and experienced faculty personnel to students. For the first year of the college in England, there was a ratio of one faculty member for every four students with the advantage of providing personalised instruction.

The Entrance Hall is beautifully adorned with fine paintings, including that of Mr. Richard D. Armstrong in whose honour Memorial Hall has been dedicated.

Students spend many hours of research and study in a carefully selected, rapidly growing library of over 2500 volumes in its first year.

INTRODUCING

THE STUDENT BODY

ROBIN JONES
Student Body President

These pages show that what is being accomplished is not the creation of a different institution. You are seeing new faces, new sights, but the college is the same—Ambassador.

And as always, Ambassador life has many problems. Classes, work, and social activities mean crowded schedules. For guidance and assistance, these young men and women of the Student Council, both willing and able to lead in college life, have been chosen to help their fellow students.

TEXAS WELCOMES YOU

That first glimpse of the place God has chosen for His people to meet in this nation becomes a greater thrill each year. Old friendships are renewed, new friends innumerable. The command to "go up from year to year . . . to keep the Feast of Tabernacles," brings us real joy.

TRAILER SUBURB

CITY OF BOOTHS

Beautiful wooded grounds stretch out a mile in length. Thousands come here each year to enjoy the Feast of Tabernacles. At the moment many are lined up for the noon meal just south of the dining hall. This arch-shaped structure formerly served as the main tabernacle building but was quickly outgrown. Under the shade of the trees in the central portion of the picture are hundreds of tents. They go up in a day and disappear as quickly eight days later. To the right a tract of brush land was quickly cleared. A city sprang up overnight! On the outskirts of "Booth City" are hundreds of trailers serving as comfortable, temporary homes.

Redwood Arches Span the Dining Area

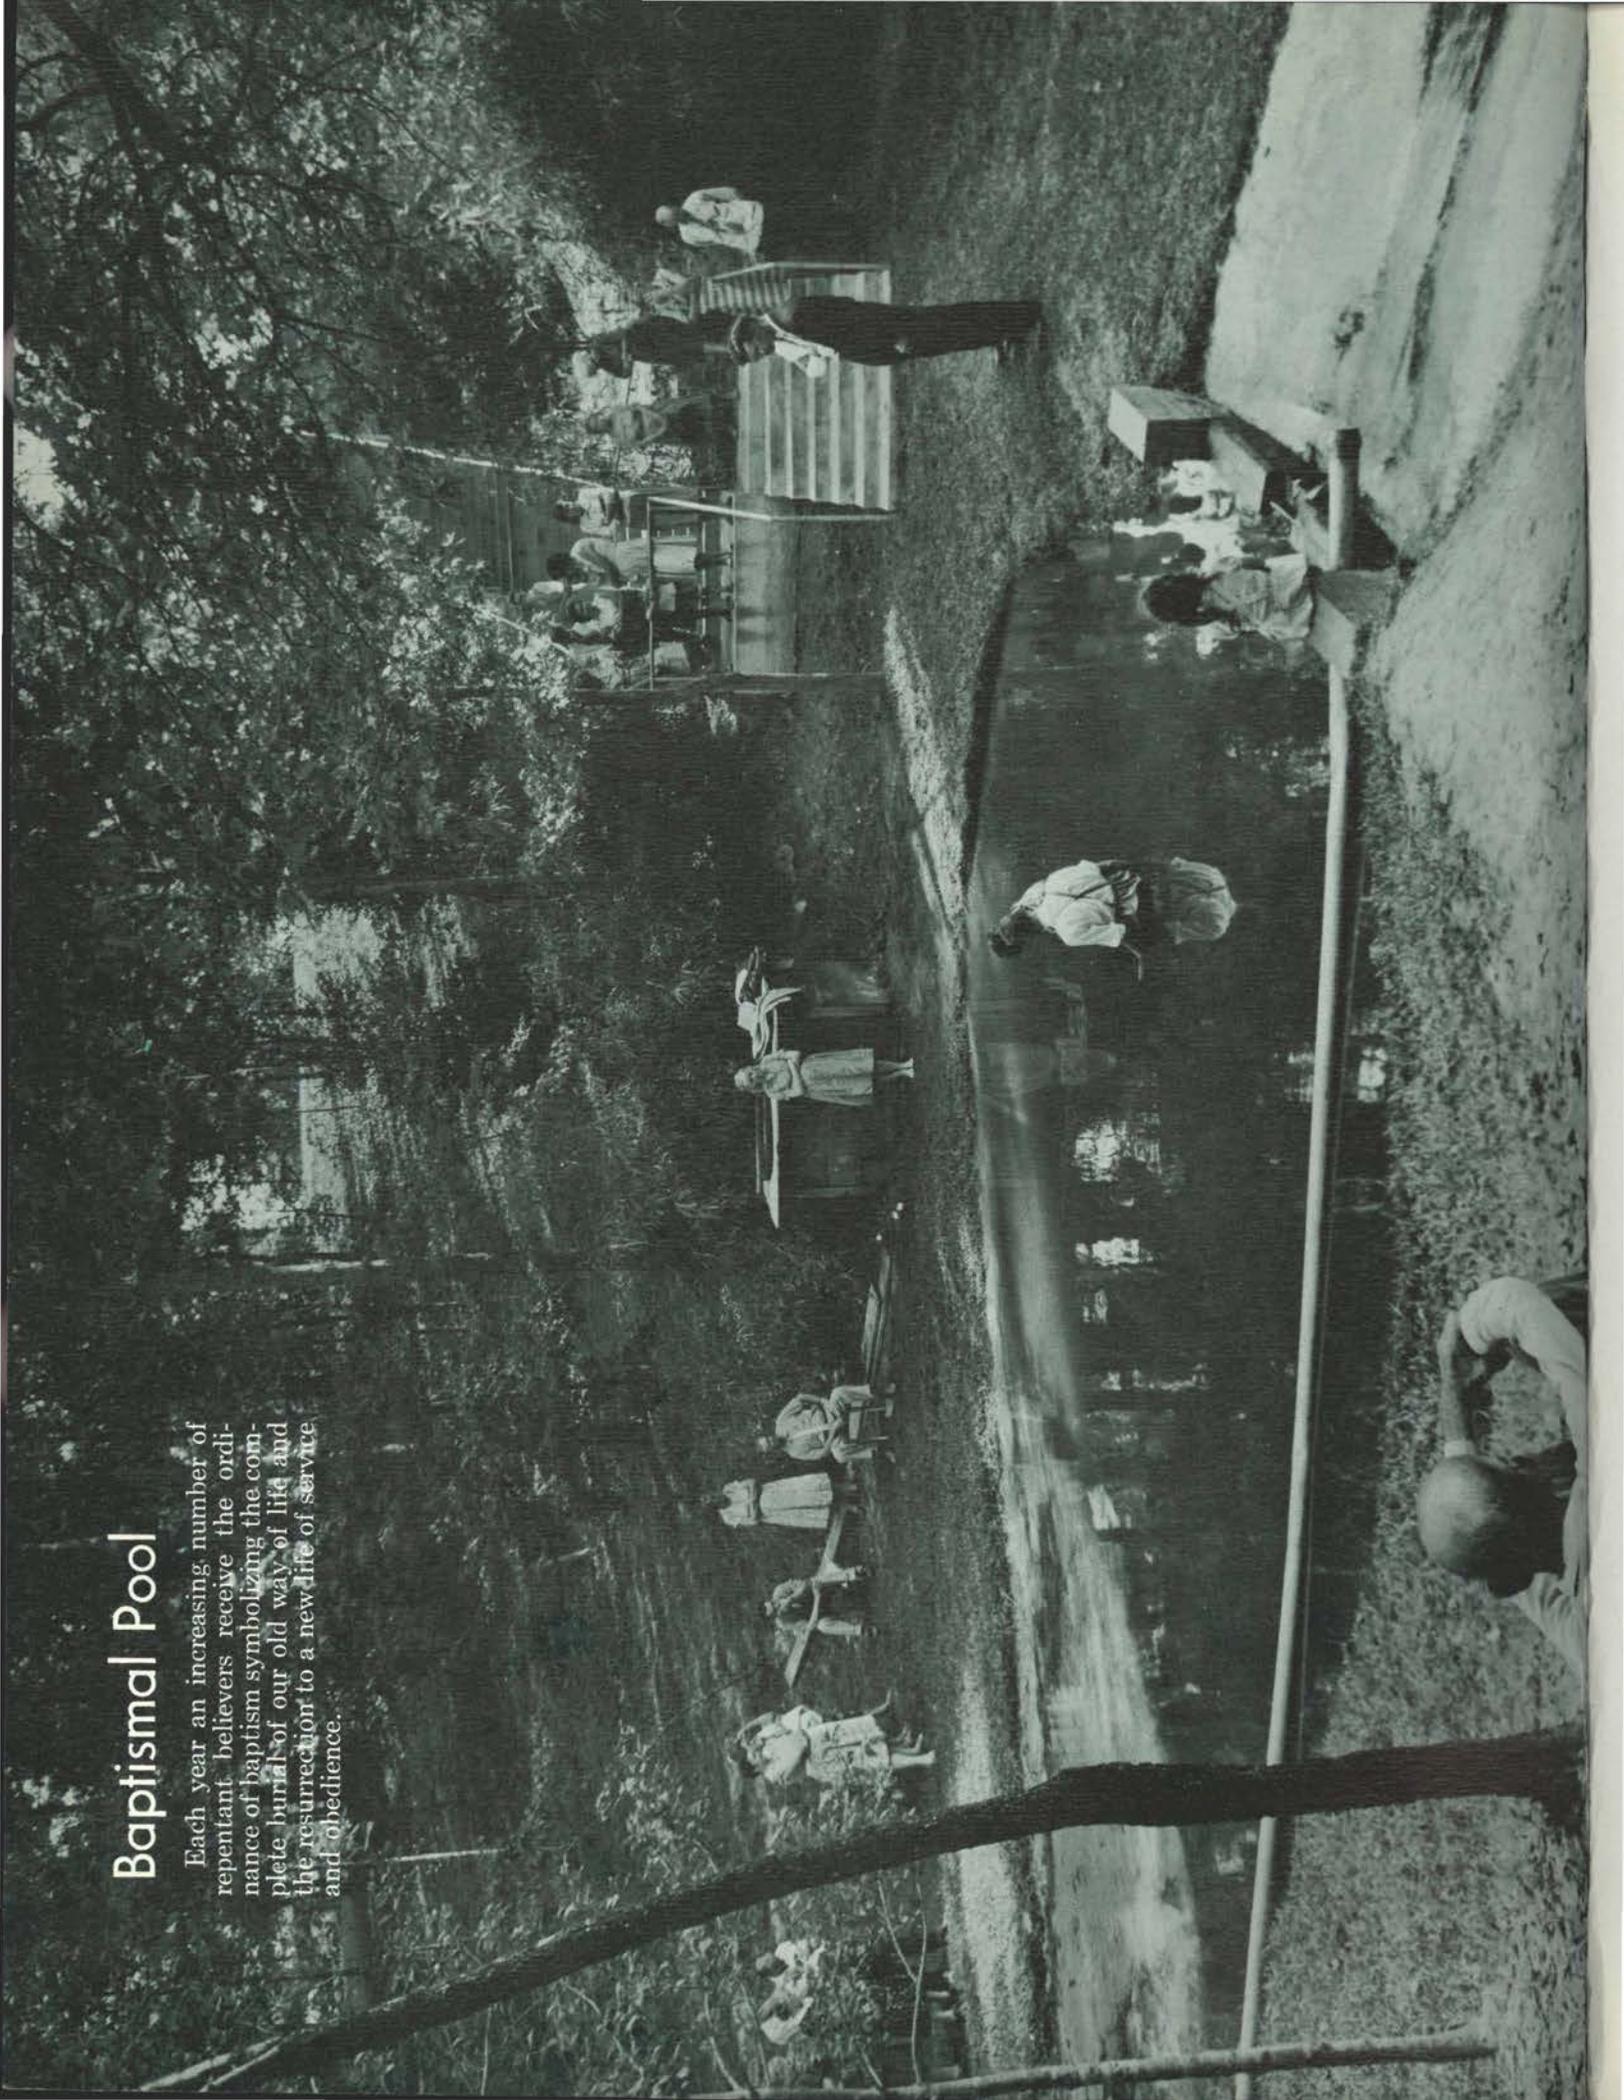

The brisk walk from the Tabernacle has served as an appetizer. Some prepared meals in the nearby camping area, others patronized the eating establishments of Gladewater and Big Sandy, but the majority preferred the magnificent setting presented here. Empty chairs were quickly filled by new arrivals; conversation had to be held to a minimum; clockwork precision was the solution to feeding this multitude. The adjoining dining areas were filled to capacity and hundreds of volunteer workers aided in serving, in the preparation of food, and in dishwashing. Appetites were keen in this autumn setting in east Texas.

Baptismal Pool

Each year an increasing number of repentant believers receive the ordinance of baptism symbolizing the complete burial of our old way of life and the resurrection to a new life of service and obedience.

Stream and Spring

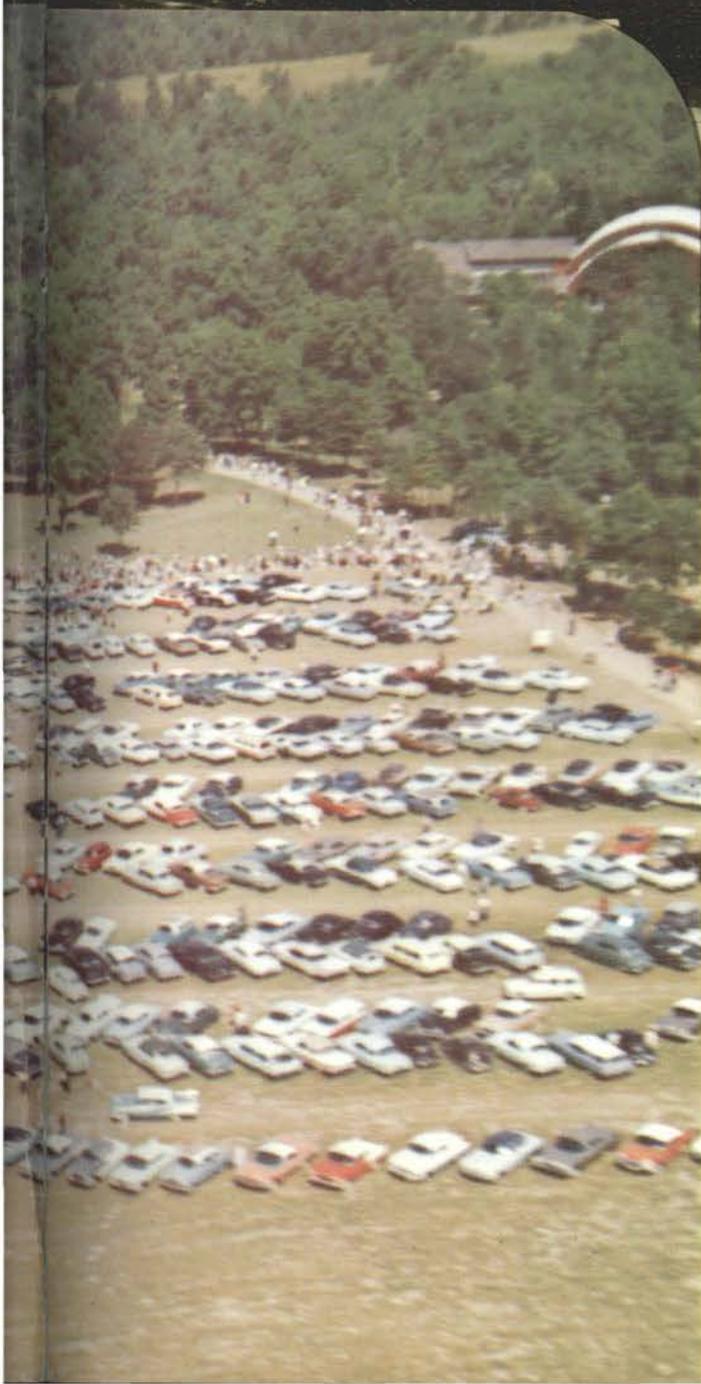

A refreshing, meditative atmosphere in the serene coolness on the forested slopes below the Dining Hall.

Acres of Autos---
A Multitude of People

Spacious grounds provide adequate parking facilities for the growing number of cars that fill the Tabernacle grounds during the Festivals. Deacons and their assistants smoothly direct hundreds of autos to their places in only minutes. The immense Tabernacle, appearing as a bar of silver on a green velvet carpet, is being emptied after the morning services. Thousands walk leisurely over beautifully contoured, wooded slopes to the redwood dining hall for a delectable dinner and congenial fellowship with one another. Many return to tents, trailers, cabins, motels, and hotels. The afternoons are often spent in a variety of planned events that include boating, fishing, swimming, riding, square-dancing and a host of other activities leaving one relaxed and refreshed. After a day of spiritual and physical feasting and an afternoon filled with activity, all can say they have experienced the real joy of Abundant Living.

Relaxation

The ENVOY display provides a tantalizing glimpse into the plans for an exciting, new, and even more colorful edition. A count of our 1960 subscribers by states in map form was a thought provoking view of how scattered our church brethren really are.

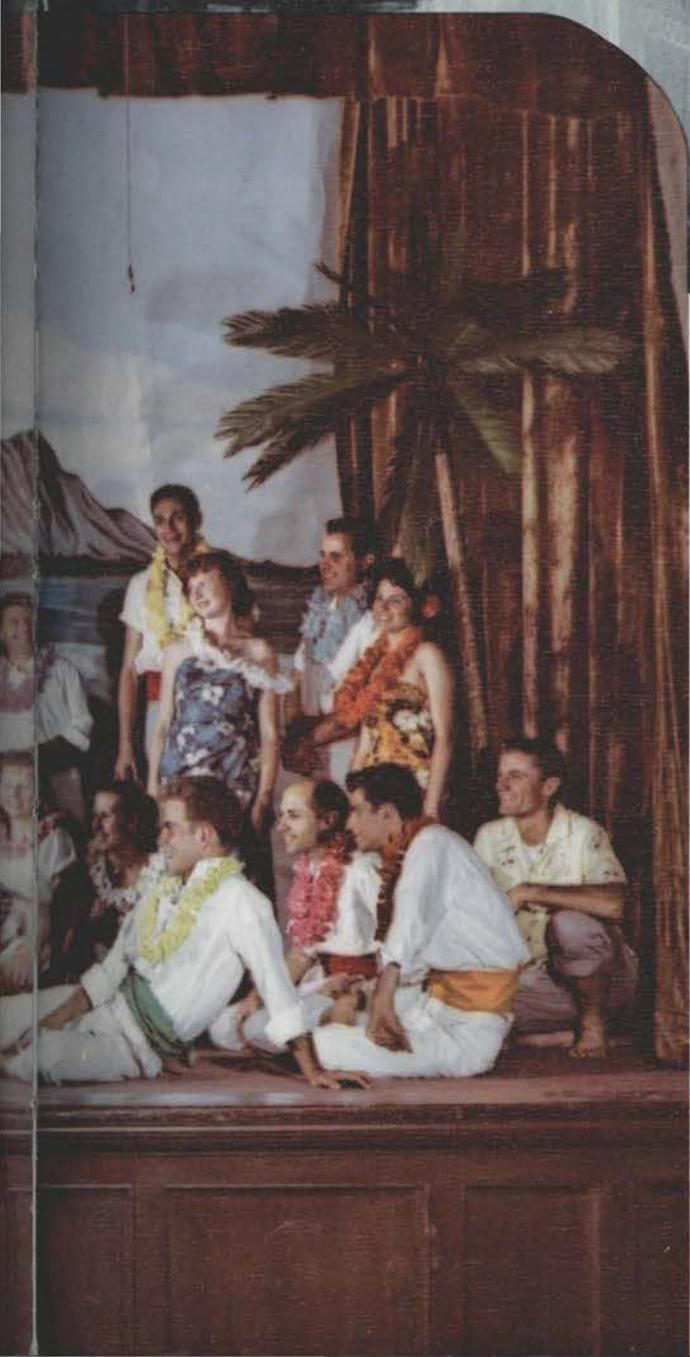

Warm smiles, enthusiastic handshakes, and loving embraces of old and new friends exemplify the close family-like ties of spiritual brothers and sisters.

The Ambassador Chorale presents
"South Pacific"

Maynard Parker

"Inspiring . . . colorful . . . sparkling" . . . these are the words that aptly described the Chorale's magnificent production of "South Pacific." Presented first in Pasadena and then at the Feast of Tabernacles; a new, exciting and unique format was one of the year's highlights in entertainment for all those who were privileged to attend. The first portion of the program included traditionally formal sacred and semi-classical music. After a brief intermission the evening's program turned to the surprising treat. Balmy ocean breezes and swaying palms of tropic isles were the setting for our singers now dressed in Polynesian attire. Music from the famous Broadway musical "South Pacific" by Rodgers and Hammerstein and a variety of other selections filled the air. The energetic response of the audience's applause evidenced their approval of the excellent presentation, and all were left indelibly impressed.

Fun and More Fun

Talent to defy description is seen and heard at the annual "Fun Show" presentation.

From the hilarious "British are coming" to the romantic tone of a lovely duet, this show offers relaxing entertainment for all.

A unique privilege was afforded the wives of God's ministers in the January, 1961 ministerial conference, when they sat in with their husbands to learn how the two together might better serve God. Their duties as faithful and diligent wives and mothers is but a portion of the great service which they render. Advising the women of the Church in homemaking, child training, house keeping, and fulfilling the offices of secretaries, counselors, and musicians typify many of the usual duties in which they are active.

So now, what's your excuse?

Daily exercising through the year prepares each enthusiastic participant for his specialty in a day jam-packed with vigorous athletic events. Awards and medals are presented to the champs with an overall award for the one scoring the highest number of points. Events progress from early morning to evening with a break at noon for a relaxing lunch on Mayfair's lawn. The last event before dinner is the spirited faculty-student volley ball game. Climaxing this exhausting day is the traditional hamburger fry.

Presenting the

1961 ENVOY Staff

Seven consecutive issues of the ENVOY lie on the table in the foreground. Each represents a year of growth at Ambassador College. Each has reached out to a growing list of subscribers and strengthened the bond of unity between Headquarters and those of you scattered around the globe.

In front of these yearbooks is the colorful, photographically produced Prospectus, an invaluable aid in providing convincing pictorial proof to radio station managers of the scope and purpose of the evangelistic work that emanates from the Ambassador Campuses both in the United States and in Britain. Many of the pictures shown in it are made available for ENVOY publication. A few of its pictures were the product of this ENVOY Staff.

Acknowledgments

The world wide scope of this issue of the ENVOY makes it an extremely difficult task to list those who have had a part in production. Photographs have come from amateur and professional sources as well as the Staff. In some cases a credit line has been given, a few are listed below and others are unknown. Acknowledging artwork has presented a similar problem. A second staff worked on 36 pages on the campus in Bricket Wood, England, and is pictured with us here. Pictures, copy and correspondence were flown back and forth in a steady stream. Early skepticism changed to confidence, as page after page was delivered intact and minor revisions accomplished. The conclusion: It can be done; our two campuses can share a common yearbook and then share this production with thousands of you.
